Agents Capture Counterfeiters

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UP)—Secret Service agents claimed today the capture of the two masterminds of a counterfeiting ring which spread $500,000 in bogus money across the United States and Canada.

Salvatore Sall, 39, and Anthony Iraci, 36, both of Buffalo, were arrested in downtown cafes Tuesday by treasury agents who had followed a trail which began in Los Angeles three months ago and spread to New York, New Orleans, St. Louis, Cleveland, Atlanta and other cities.

Secret Service supervisor for New York A. E. Whitaker said $230,000 of the phony money made by the ring had been recovered and that banking officials had been alerted to be on the lookout for many hundreds of thousands dollars more of the $10 and $20 bills believed to be in circulation.

Whitaker said the money was counterfeited so perfectly that it was extremely difficult to tell the bills from genuine currency. Treasury officials said the bogus bills bore the symbols of all 12 federal reserve districts.

Defenders Cut Claims About Crushing Reds

By SPENCER MOOSA

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Chinese Nationalists today abruptly ebbed off their first smashing claims of success in crushing the red invaders of Hainan Island.

The Nationalists said Monday about 8,000 Chinese Communists had planted two beachheads on the vital island, 10 miles off Luzon Peninsula.

They announced jubilantly their forces had killed 5,000 Reds, captured about 1,000 and were smashing the remnants Tuesday.

Today they said nothing. The silence could be ominous.

This sinister note could be heightened by the arrival Tuesday of Chen Chi-tang, governor of Hainan.

Officially, it was said, Chen came to ask the Nationalist high command for instructions. Chen was reported as saying the invaders were "well contained" and Nationalist morale was high.

But reports circulated that the Nationalists' earlier claims of success were too rosy.

Resume Traffic On Blocked Line

BEAVERMOUTH, B.C. (UP)—Traffic over the C.P.R. mainline was back in operation again today after being disrupted for several hours due to rockslides. Operations were halted here when a slide, weakened by melting snow and mountain runoff, tumbled onto the track hitting a freight. No one was injured.

HARRIMAN BIDS FOR NEW YORK GOVERNORSHIP

U.S. Ambassador May Be Given N.Y. Nomination

NEW YORK (UP)—W. Averell Harriman, U.S. Ambassador-at-large, made his bid today for the democratic gubernatorial nomination with the blessings of President Truman.

While New York Democratic leaders insisted the President is maintaining a "hands off" policy and that the race is wide open, they admitted Harriman is acceptable to Mr. Truman. He also "looks good" to the city leaders, but he still must sell himself to upstate chairmen.

Harriman will get his chance when he delivers the principal political speech at the annual Democratic $100-a-plate dinner. It was reported he will endorse the principles of the Roosevelt New Deal and the Truman Fair Deal.

Roosevelt invited some of the ambassador's supporters are hoping to persuade Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. to accept the nomination for Lieutenant-Governor. They feel such a ticket would appeal to both conservative and Liberal Democrats.

State Democratic chairman Paul E. Fitzpatrick, considered a possible "darkhorse" candidate, stepped out of the picture. He told party leaders that he would not accept the nomination while he is still chairman.

Two Arrested In Toronto's Hit-Run Case

TORONTO (UP)—Two men were arrested today on suspicion of causing the hit-and-run death of Lorraine Watson, 13, and her five-year-old playmate Barbara Jones last March 31.

One of the city's most intensive manhunt in recent years ended with the surprise arrest of James S. Tackaberry, of Toronto and Frank Wells of nearby York Township.

Both were booked on charges of manslaughter and failure to remain at the scene of an accident. They were to be arraigned in court later today.

The two children were killed by a speeding truck as they walked to church for a special evening service.

Back Into The Ring

Clarie Gillis, C.C.F. member of Parliament for Cape Breton South, demonstrates how he tackled a Communist sympathizer in the back alley of an Ottawa hotel. Mr. Gillis, an ex-coal miner, said he intervened during an argument between an elderly man and a young man in the hotel tavern. The youngster, he said, tried to have the other thrown out because he would not listen to the "old commie line." So Mr. Gillis invited him to step outside and there "tossed in a couple of rights" to his jaw. Mr. Gillis was welterweight champion of the Canadian Corps in the First World War.—(CP Photo)

Floods Isolate Manitoba Areas

WINNIPEG (CP)—A minor drainage system went on a sudden rampage, isolating at least three southern Manitoba communities. The suddenness and the fury indicates destruction in the province this year may be worse than in 1948.

Rosenfeld, Plum Coulee and Hordean, three villages nestled below the Pembina Hills, today were cut off by rail and road from the rest of the country.

A 50-foot breach was bulldozed out of the highway to lead the water past the outskirts. The highway previously was cut by water in two places. A highway bridge is gone.

South of the village is a vast plain of water and quagmire, creeping closer and threatening to isolate Rosenfeld from three sides.

Tracks to Plum Coulee and Hordean were washed out. The only entrance to Plum Coulee is through the United States.

Farther south at Altona a bridge was taken out by ice, and half the village inundated.

RED TROOPS EXPAND HOLD ON HAINAN

Reinforcements Land Despite Fight Of Nationalists

By SPENCER MOOSA

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—A reliable source said tonight the Chinese Reds have landed reinforcements on Hainan Island, where they won two beachheads Monday.

A civilian pilot who arrived in Hongkong today from Hainan said the Reds have landed 5,000 more troops on the northern beaches.

Jubilant over earlier Nationalist claims of a smashing victory gave way to anxiety in this Nationalist capital.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek called his service chiefs into a huddle to find what went wrong on the south China island. They sought to develop quickly a smoother co-ordination between commanders there.

Defence units apparently fought independently of each other. This permitted the Reds to make deep inroads, apparently. One high official said the situation was serious.

The informant said, however, the Reds had landed only a few new troops. He said many troop-laden craft were sunk before they could reach the beachhead.

JUNKS DIFFICULT Adm. Kwei Yung-ching, Nationalist naval chief, said it was hard to stop all invading craft.

"One of the most difficult things in the world to sink is a wooden junk," he said. "We could do with some high speed boats with flame throwers. That would be the best way to tackle them."

Kwei said the navy had killed more than 5,000 invaders at sea during the Monday attack.

He predicted the Reds, if they take Hainan, would turn their full attention to southeast Asia.

Monasteries To Be Apartments

LONDON (AP)—Czechoslovakia's Communist-led government is going to turn many Roman Catholic monasteries into apartment buildings and social and health institutions, dispatches from Prague said Tuesday night.

The official Czechoslovakia news agency, according to the reports, said the conviction of 10 monks April 3 for alleged anti-state activities had showed that many monasteries were harboring "hostile agents, spies and even murderers."

Czechs Order U.S. Close Two Information Offices

PRAGUE (UP)—Czechoslovakia today asked the United States to close its two information service offices in this country and ordered the expulsion of Joseph Kolarek, press attaché of the American Embassy.

A Czech note to the American Embassy charged that Kolarek had "abused his diplomatic privileges and Czech hospitality for direct espionage against the Czechoslovak republic."

The Czech note, announced by Radio Prague, asked that Kolarek leave the country "in reasonable time."

Concerned Over Red Reaction To Demand

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The possibility of further Soviet-American air clashes along the uneasy front of the cold war in Europe is being carefully studied by top officials here.

They are also deeply concerned, it was learned today, about the reasons why the Russians allegedly shot down a United States naval plane in the Baltic Sea area April 8. They have demanded—but doubt they will get—Soviet assurances that no such thing will happen again.

The demand was set forth in a note of protest delivered to Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky in Moscow Tuesday by U.S. Ambassador Alan G. Kirk.

What the United States will do next if the Russians turn down these demands is the nub of the problem before the state and defence departments and the White House. In a seque American policy decisions will depend on estimates of why the shooting incident occurred at all.

Several possibilities are the subject of speculation among officials here. One is that the Soviet government has determined to try to close the Baltic, a key Russian defence area on its eastern shores, to American flights and has resorted to an act of terror to accomplish this.

OVER FREE WATERS Another possibility is that the Russians sent out fighters to investigate the U.S. plane even though it was over international waters and that one of the fighter pilots fired in a trigger-happy moment. A third possibility is that the Russian fighters were under orders to force the plane to land in the hope of thereby capturing whatever secret American equipment, if any, might be aboard.

The next American moves in the situation are based on the assumption that the United States is up against a new and tougher development of anti-American policy on the part of the Soviet Union.

Reds Reopen Campaign For Dardanelles

MOSCOW (UP)—Russia's historic campaign for free passage through the gateway to the Black Sea was reopened today with a new demand for revision of controls over the Dardanelles.

The navy ministry organ Red Fleet said the Montreux Convention, giving Turkey control over the strategic straits between the Black and Mediterranean Seas, had ceased to satisfy the interests of the Black Sea powers.

"Turkey's rulers have sold the independence of their country to American imperialists," Red Fleet said.

Numerous groups of American military and civil advisers dispose at will Turkey's economy and armed forces. American squadrons are frequent guests in the Sea of Marmara (in the Dardanelles) and Turkish airports are American landing fields.

"Anglo-American military authorities boss Greece. There are increasing provocations along the Greek-Bulgarian and the Greek-Albanian borders."

Building Still Tied Up Here By Truck Strike

Major construction work in the city is still at a standstill as a result of a shutdown order issued by the Victoria Building Industries Exchange.

Only exception is the addition to St. Joseph's Hospital.

The hospital addition is being undertaken by Sullivan Construction Co. Ltd., Vancouver, which is outside the jurisdiction of the Victoria Exchange.

Some small jobs being undertaken by small contractors are going ahead, although they are getting behind schedule because no concrete is available due to the strike at Evans, Coleman and Johnson Bros. building supply firm.

The exchange indirectly blames the strike for the shutdown. It lays direct blame on building tradesmen who have refused to work on jobs strikers have picketed.

The strike today entered its third week.

Pilgrims To Rome Total 500,000

ROME (Reuter)—At least 500,000 pilgrims have visited Rome in the first six weeks of the Holy Year, figures issued by the Holy Year committee showed today. Italy, with 78,000 pilgrims, tops the list, followed by France with 40,000. The United States and Britain each sent 10,000 and Canada 3,000.

Legal Snag In Action By City To Set Aside Award

Judge Asks For Statute Outlining Authority To Deal With Question

The city's motion to have set aside an arbitration award to 250 of its outside staff hit a first-class legal snag in Supreme Court chambers today when Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane asked for a statute outlining his authority on the question.

The matter was adjourned until Friday to permit study of jurisdiction.

"I have no more authority than the man in the street unless given me by statute," the judge told the battery of legal counsel facing him.

"I want to know what jurisdiction I have to hear an application," he continued. "It is a fundamental matter of procedure."

The Civic Employees' Protective Association, Local No. 50, covering the outside staff, did not oppose the city's motion. J. Howard Harman, however, representing the Labor Relations Board, argued that a matter of such public interest should not go by consent.

W. H. M. Haldane who appeared with A. J. Patton, city solicitor, on behalf of the city, and George Gregory, counsel for the city employees' union, contended the Labor Relations Board had no right to intervene or be represented.

Mr. Justice Macfarlane ruled otherwise, however. He said he would make no order or motion when bona fides of people were reflected upon, without giving the people concerned an opportunity to speak for themselves.

His Lordship was referring to the fact that the city based its notice of motion on grounds of "misconduct" on the part of two members of the arbitration board, who the city contended acted on inadmissible evidence in arriving at an award.

"I submit the purpose of the L.C. & A. Act is to get the parties together and I think the parties could settle this in half an hour with the order out of the way," Mr. Gregory told the judge.

His Lordship said if the matter was settled between parties during adjournment "so much the better," but contended the Labor Relations Board had a definite right to intervene.

The dispute arose when a 7½-cent-an-hour increase was awarded the outside staff. The city contended an earlier decision of 3 cents was made but not signed, then changed in the light of later evidence, with the city not advised on that evidence.

PORK BUYING GROWS

Beef Prices Will Go Higher, Dealers State

MONTREAL (BUP) — Meat wholesalers across Canada, faced with the highest meat prices in 30 years, today offered no consolation for the Canadian housewife.

The housewife is destined to pay yet higher prices for choice beef. This summer, if she can find it, she can always buy pork.

Pork, now selling at the lowest retail meat price, promised to hold its price and swell pork consumption across Canadian tables. Already, Canadian pork buying had increased from a weekly consumption of 45,000 hogs in 1939 to today's record of 70,000, wholesalers said.

Wholesalers could not see any immediate relief from high prices of choice meats, which threatened a steady climb and spelled a scarcity of good quality meats across retail counters, this summer.

TORIES DEMAND PROBING INTO GOVERNMENT'S ACTS

OTTAWA (CP)—The Progressive Conservative Association of Canada today went on record in favor of a royal commission investigation into all phases of federal government activity.

In a series of resolutions adopted at a concluding session of the three-day annual meeting, the association endorsed the leadership of George Drew and said:

"We commend the action of our leader in calling for the appointment of a royal commission to examine the organization and procedure of all departments and agencies of government for the purpose of increasing efficiency, effecting economies and eliminating duplication and overlapping of services, and ensuring strict parliamentary supervision of governmental expenditures."

Delegates had been told by Mr. Drew that the main purpose of the meeting was to improve the party's organization. He said the party could still stand by its policy platform adopted at the 1948 national convention, although that platform would have to be altered from time to time.

The meeting endorsed the 1948 platform.

U.S. Officials Fear New Air Conflicts

Deeply Concerned About Red Reasons For Shooting Plane

Leopold Back As Monarch In Name Only

BRUSSELS (CP)—Leaders of Belgium's three main political parties were reported tonight to have accepted King Leopold's proposal that he return to Brussels as king in name only, delegating his royal powers to his 19-year-old son, Prince Baudouin.

Leopold made the proposal in a speech in exile in Switzerland and rebroadcast over the Belgian national radio last Saturday night.

It represented a compromise between the Social Christian (Catholic) party demand that Leopold be returned to the throne unconditionally and the Socialist demand that he abdicate in favor of Baudouin. The Liberal Party had indicated it would accept any solution satisfactory to the other two parties.

Leaders of three parties were understood to have accepted the king's proposal in principle at a meeting in the Belgian foreign office, with Social Christian Premier-designate Paul Van Zeeland presiding.

Searchers Find Vancouver Boy Safe In California

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—The six-year-old son of Vancouver, B.C., parents was lost for seven hours Tuesday night in rugged snake-infested Snow Creek Canyon 12 miles north of here.

A posse of 50 men searched the area on foot and found Bobby Angus asleep early today about two miles from the mountain cabin from which he had disappeared. He was unhurt except for scratches from brush.

The boy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Angus. Angus is reported to be a well-to-do chartered accountant in the Canadian city.

The child was traveling with his governess, Ada Turpin, and her sister, Mrs. Margaret Muir. Mrs. Muir told deputies that the child disappeared while the two women were unpacking the car for a stay at the cabin.

Laborites To Rely On Members' Loyalty

LONDON (CP)—The Labor Party today decided to carry on without any rigid forms of parliamentary discipline.

This means that the government will rely on party loyalty rather than a formal code of conduct to sustain it in future trials of strength in the House of Commons.

The decision was taken at a private party caucus, which also heard Labor's first detailed criticisms of the stand-pat budget introduced Tuesday by Sir Stafford Cripps.

Floods On Fraser Threaten As Prairie Areas Suffer

Navy Welcome To Army Head

Lt.-Gen. Guy G. Simonds, left, commandant of the National Defence College at Kingston, today was welcomed here by Rear-Admiral H. G. DeWolf when the destroyer Athabaskan docked at Esquimalt. Aboard was a 31-man party of armed forces and civilian defence experts.

Gen. Simonds Here With Defence Party On Tour

The best way to learn is to combine observations with theory, Lt.-Gen. Guy G. Simonds said here today on his arrival as head of a party of 31 defence experts.

The group is using this technique in a tour of Canada, including the far north, as part of the third annual defence course for senior civilian and service officers at the National Defence College at Kingston. Gen. Simonds is commandant of the school.

The 31 men, including the six-man directing staff of the military college, representatives of most government departments, the three branches of the armed forces, and two British government men, arrived at Esquimalt from Vancouver on the destroyer Athabaskan.

Admiral H. G. DeWolf, flag officer, Pacific coast, went aboard to welcome General Simonds.

The party is studying industrial plans as well as defences. "Modern war is total war. Therefore, industrial and economic factors as well as the obvious military must be studied and co-ordinated," the 46-year-old commandant said.

He declined comment when questioned as to possible increase in west coast defences.

"This is a general assessment of defences and weaknesses. At the end of the course (June 30), a report will be submitted to the government," General Simonds said.

The general knows Victoria well, having lived here from 1912 to 1917, and having passed through the city a few months ago aboard the R.M.S. Acragani on his return from England via the east.

In the party are Ivor Pink of the United Kingdom Foreign Office, until recently head of the British mission in Tokyo and formerly on the governing commission in Berlin, and Group Capt. Roy Faville, R.A.F.

Canadians in the group represent the services, the departments of transport, labor and external affairs, the tariff board, R.C.M.P., Bell Telephone Co., CBC and other civilian agencies.

Balmy Spring Weather Moving Into Mountains

From CP and UP Dispatches

The threat of floods in the Fraser Valley rose today as balmy weather moved into British Columbia, forcing freezing levels high into the mountains.

Citizens in flood-safe areas rejoiced in the first warm sunshine of the season, but in the vulnerable valley, a repeat of the 1948 disaster was feared.

"Conditions like this," the weather officer here said, "precipitated the Fraser Valley floods in 1948."

In the mountains which drain into the Fraser, snow levels this year are above normal, and water content as high as 137 per cent of normal.

What the weather office described as "a natural trough of low pressure over California" is circulating warm air into B.C. Freezing levels on the mountains have been forced to 10,000 feet.

The forecast is for continued warm weather — which could cause a torrential runoff.

WATERS RECEDING

Meanwhile, in southern Manitoba, flood waters receded slowly at four stricken points.

Train service has been restored to the Rosenfeld, Hornbeak, Plum Coulee and Altona districts, about 60 miles south of Winnipeg, after one day of re-routing through flooded country. However, some highways still are closed because of floods.

The Red River is only five feet from flood level in Winnipeg after a 2½-foot rise in the last 24 hours. Gauges showed a reading of 13.4 feet with flood level between 18 and 20 feet.

READY TO EVACUATE

Near Saskatoon, a dozen families prepared evacuation today as the South Saskatchewan River flooded hundreds of acres of low-lying farmland. Already two families had fled the onrushing flood waters.

Harassed officials at Moon Lake, 10 miles from here, predicted the river might spread havoc over a wide area if the floodwaters were not stemmed.

An ice jam near Moon Lake also threatened to aggravate the turbulent situation, and possibility of use of dynamite was becoming more likely.

At East Coulee, Alta., ice flows smashed wood piles under a small bridge, and railway officials were forced to stop further railway car traffic.

LOSSES IN U.S.

South of the border rampaging rivers today poured new torrents over large parts of North Dakota and western Minnesota to drive added hundreds of families from their homes. The U.S. Red Cross estimated 3,000 persons were homeless in North Dakota.

Jamestown, N.D., where 500 families were ousted by the normally placed Pipestem River, faced a new threat as the James River started to move over its banks.

Richard Stoudt, Red Cross disaster committee chairman, said half the houses in Jamestown, a city of some 10,000, already were under water in the south-south-west section along the Pipestem.

Many Hurt In Train Wreck

OTTAWA, Kas. (AP) — The Santa Fe Railroad's Tulsa, streamline passenger train, was derailed 12 miles south of here today.

First reports were that several cars were derailed and that "quite a few people" were brought to hospital.

The accident occurred at a country road crossing after the train "hit either a truck or a bulldozer," one report said.

Work Halted On Defence Houses; Shutdown Tight

No Let-up By Builders' Exchange In Action Blamed On Truckers' Strike

More major construction work in the city was tied up today as a result of the building shutdown called by the Victoria Building Industries Exchange.

The exchange met Tuesday afternoon to reconsider its position but following adjournment announced no change in the attitude of its contractor members.

A spokesman reiterated an earlier statement that exchange members would not resume operations until building trade workmen agree to handle any material provided by their employing contractor.

The exchange shutdown was being felt even more than in previous days as two exchange affiliates attempting to carry on with work were brought into line with other members who closed their jobs completely.

Victoria Housing Ltd., contracting firm for 75 army homes at Macaulay Point, and George Farmer, contractor for a navy housing development at Royal Roads, stopped work and laid off construction crews at noon.

Only big project still going ahead is the St. Joseph's Hospital addition being undertaken by Sullivan Construction Co. Ltd. Being a Vancouver firm, this company is outside the jurisdiction of the Victoria Exchange.

$230,000 BOGUS MONEY FOUND

Counterfeiting Ring Said Broken With Arrest Of Leaders In U.S.

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UP)—Secret Service agents claimed today the capture of the two masterminds of a counterfeiting ring which spread $300,000 in bogus money across the United States and Canada.

Salvatore Salil, 39, and Anthony Iraci, 36, both of Buffalo, were arrested in downtown cafes Tuesday by treasury agents who had followed a trail which began in Los Angeles three months ago and spread to New York, New Orleans, St. Louis, Cleveland, Atlanta and other cities.

Secret Service supervisor for New York A. E. Whitaker said $230,000 of the phony money made by the ring had been recovered and that banking officials had been alerted to be on the lookout for many hundreds of thousands dollars more of the $10 and $20 bills believed to be in circulation.

Whitaker said the money was counterfeited so perfectly that it was extremely difficult to tell the bills from genuine currency.

Treasury officials said the bogus bills bore the symbols of all 12 federal reserve districts from A to L. They said this was an extremely rare and expensive counterfeiting procedure to lessen chances of detection.

APPEARED IN B.C.

Whitaker said Salil and Iraci were also "the moving spirits" in widespread counterfeiting of

O.P.A. ration stamps during the war and "the organizers" of a ring which counterfeited large amounts of Canadian currency during the past several months.

Their arrest recalled widespread appearance of counterfeit American currency at the Pacific National Exhibition in Vancouver, B.C., last year.

At the time of his arrest, Salil was free in $10,000 bail following his conviction on narcotics charges.

The tip-off on their activities came from secret service agents in Los Angeles who told U.S. Attorney Irving H. Saypol in New York they believed the ring had its headquarters in the east.

ONE WOMAN'S DAY

By NANCY HODGES

PIONEER PREDICTIONS

THANKS to the kindness of one of my readers, I have just been regaling myself with a pioneer picture of Vancouver Island, as seen through the eyes of a writer in the American edition of the Westminster Review, published in New York in July, 1866. The old magazine was discovered by my correspondent among a mass of papers left by a pioneer resident of this city and acquired by him some time ago.

And it is like looking through the wrong end of a telescope to discover the Vancouver Island that presented itself to the adventurous and intrepid souls who came to this practically unknown country in the days when it was still a crown colony.

UNKNOWN COUNTRY

THAT it was indeed an unknown country is shown by this opening excerpt from the 1866 article:

"Vancouver Island and British Columbia, till within the last eight years, were regarded by the mass of Englishmen as a terra incognita embracing a region of the globe helplessly given over to sanguinary encounters between savages and beasts of prey, having no claim to be improved by industry, or visited with the benefits of civilization. Considering the difficulty of access to these colonies, compared with our thriving dependencies in the South Pacific, the very limited knowledge possessed in this country of their topography and resources, and the conflicting statements that have appeared in their books and newspapers respecting their adaptability for commercial, mining and agricultural enterprise, it is not surprising that the most diligent efforts to reach a satisfactory conclusion as to their condition and prospects should often have ended in perplexity and disappointment."

ELYSIUM OR SAHARA?

THIS opening gambit, suggesting that even in that pre-publicity bureau era this island had its propaganda writers, is followed by this diverting paragraph:

"Lucky emigrants who made rich strikes looking at their adopted home wholly through the sunshine of their prosperity, extol it as an Elysium. The unsuccessful, on the other hand, wincing under the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune, rush into print to cool their indignation and execrate the country as a Sahara. The facts now to be submitted may possibly help to unravel this tangled skein of contradictions and show the truth to be midway between the opposite exaggerations referred to."

The writer then goes into a long description of the history, geography and topography of Vancouver Island, noting, among other things, that "the Gulf of Georgia, between Vancouver Island and the mainland, is studded with islands from the size of a flower-pot upwards."

MANY MICAWBERS

ALLUDING to the gold rush of 1858, which brought a tremendous influx of fortune-seekers from California to Victoria, en route to the new El Dorado, the article points out:

"The motley throng included those accursed of civilization, gamblers, loafers, thieves and ruffians, with others of a more respectable stamp. The majority, consisting of Micawbers, brokers, merchants and French cooks, finding that they were yet some hundreds of miles from the diggings, remained in Victoria, anxiously watching the turn of the real estate market which was the barometer of their hopes."

For many of those pioneer Micawbers something evidently did turn up, for the community grew and prospered, although it had its ups and downs common to all pioneer ventures. For instance, the article noted that, at the time of writing, "over-speculation in land and trading has brought temporary commercial distress to Victoria."

HAD TRISCO WORRIED

BUT that early Victorian also quoted contemporary American sentiment to illustrate his contention that, in those days at any rate, Victoria was looked upon as "a probable rival of San Francisco in the future struggle for commercial supremacy on the Pacific shores of America." And, to justify his agreement with those sentiments, reminded his readers:

"The imports of the 'London of the Pacific' (as Victoria was known in those days) amounted to $3,000,000 in 1865. It already numbers 5,000 inhabitants and contains many substantial buildings, warehouses, shops, hotels, churches, hospitals, schools, public offices and private residences. It also supports two daily papers and is well supplied with gas and water."

San Francisco has long ceased to worry about Victoria as a possible rival, I am afraid. However, it is interesting to turn back the pages of history, if only to remind us of the might-have-been. But more tomorrow.

FULL WEEK OF DRAMA

Good Entry For Festival Opening, Sirocco, May 1

The third annual Victoria Drama Festival, to take place at the Sirocco, May 1 to 6, promises to be an attraction to all theatre-goers and to those interested in the art of drama.

The following is a tentative program of plays which will be seen during the week, all starting at 8 in the evening:

May 1—St. Barnabas Players (Victoria), "Two Sisters and a King"; Y.M.C.A. Players, "Indian Summer"; Victoria Players' Guild, "White Lawn."

May 2—Young Theatricals' Barn Workshop (Duncan), "Maker of Dreams"; Totem Players (Victoria), "King or Knave"; St. Luke's Players, "Under the Clock."

May 3—Island Vagabonds (Victoria), "Heaven on Earth"; St. Luke's Players, "Victoria Regina"; Vancouver, One-act Play, festival winner.

May 4—Lantzville Players, "The Moving Finger"; Duncan Young People's Group, "New Leisure"; Nanaimo Harwood Players, "The Sisters McIntosh."

May 5—Nanaimo Community Players, "A Bit of Capital"; Port Alberni Masque Dramatic Society, "Ladies in Retirement"; Nanaimo Community Players, "Dark Brown"; Qualicum Players, "The Skin of Our Teeth" (Act 3).

May 6—Honor performances, three good plays chosen by the adjudicator, Mrs. Jessie Richardson, Vancouver, from the plays she has seen during the week.

DREDGING OPERATIONS

Dredging operations commenced in Port Mann Channel, Fraser River, today, mariners were advised by the Department of Transport here.

In connection with this work there are two rows of piles for the purpose of lining up the dredge Townsend. Dredging will continue for approximately three weeks.

SOPRANO SOLOIST on the St. George's Day program by the Victoria Choral Union Sunday afternoon at 2:30 in Christ Church Cathedral will be Miss Catherine Wendol of Vancouver. Said to be an outstanding vocalist, Miss Wendol studied voice in England where she was living up to a short time ago.

Accident Injury Victim Improving

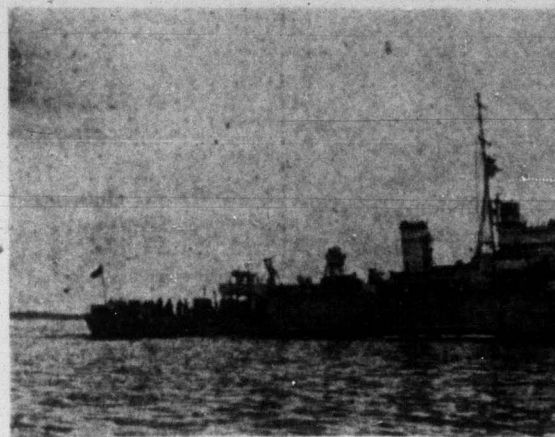

Because the accused is still away at sea, the case of Francis Daniel Cotton, 3520 Quadra Street, charged with dangerous driving, was further remanded to June 18 in city police court Tuesday.

Cotton was involved in a Dec. 30 accident in which Howard B. Knapp, 1002 Vancouver Street, was seriously injured. The injured man is reported to be recovering from a fractured pelvis.

Princess Marries Yank

Princess Fatima Pahlavi, 21, sister of the Shah of Iran, talks with her husband, Vincent Lee Hilmyer, 25, of Los Banos, Calif., shortly after their marriage in Civitavecchia, near Rome. Reports from Iran said she had been stripped of her royal prerogatives because she married without her brother's permission. The Princess planned to fly home to explain all to the Shah.

H.M.C.S. SAULT STE. MARIE

Jeep-Driver Not Guilty In Sailor Manslaughter

An Assize Court jury acquitted Able Seaman Donald Pedden, R.C.N., Tuesday of manslaughter. The jury returned with a verdict of not guilty after Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane had directed them to acquit the young seaman. The judge said there was no evidence to show the accused was guilty of the charge.

Pedden, a seaman aboard H.M.C.S. Crescent, was accused of manslaughter in connection with the death of 19-year-old Able Seaman C. Clarke. The Crown alleged the victim was run over on Douglas Street Nov. 25 by a naval jeep driven by Pedden.

James J. Proudfoot, counsel for the accused, claimed the Crown had failed to establish that the jeep ran over Clarke. He also said there was no evidence to show that Clarke was not already dead if the jeep had run over him.

Mr. Proudfoot asked the judge to direct the jury to acquit the seaman on the grounds there was no evidence of negligence on the part of the accused. He pointed out that it was raining on the night of the accident and that Pedden was not driving faster than 20 miles per hour.

Cost $330 For Screening City Managers

Screening of city manager applications by Stevenson & Kellogg, management engineers cost the city $330.

On learning the bill City Council in estimates meeting Tuesday was able to lop $1,000 off the estimated cost for administration survey. Aid Percy Scourrah observed the city should pay only half the bill "in view of what's happened."

A new grant of $5,250 which the provincial government pays towards the maintenance of arterial highways in the city, was added to the credit side of the city's ledger at estimates study. Council approved expenditure of $72,000 to provide sewer and storm drain facilities for the low-lying Shelburne Street area.

Says First Theatre Close To Religion

A comparison of the place of the theatre in everyday life in past days and modern times was drawn Monday night by Miss Dorothy Somerset in an address to the Victoria branch of the University Extension Association.

The speaker, who is assistant professor in the Department of English at U.B.C. and a leader in the field of drama in this province, noted that the theatre originated in the church.

The relationship of religion to man was reflected on the stage in a satisfactory manner, she said.

The modern theatre, on the other hand, mirrored social and economic problems, the things with which men were more concerned today. This was practically a modern concept of good and evil, Miss Somerset stated.

Her address, "The Theatre and Its Audiences," was heard by approximately 200 members.

Ask Employers To Help Army Train

Reserves Request Lease For Wainwright Camp

An appeal is being made to employers of men serving in the reserve army to give them time off, without loss of pay or holidays, to attend training camp this year.

Reserve Army units in Victoria and across Canada are stressing the importance of giving the opportunity to men who have been training two nights a week during the year to get valuable practical training in the field at summer camps.

Camp this year for the First Battalion of the Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's) will be different from previous training periods of this nature.

The men who can get off will go to Wainwright where the Scottish will take part in a brigade scheme, in which the P.P.C.I.L. paratroopers of the permanent force will take an active role.

The Canadian Military Journal points out that employers in many cases in the past have responded splendidly in encouraging and assisting their help to get away to camp without forfeiting pay or annual holidays.

However, the journal suggests that the Defence Minister and N.D.H.Q. "might well consider the advisability of instituting liaison officers" being appointed to call upon and explain fully to employers the importance of camp training to the continuance of free enterprise and national security.

Maj.-Gen. M. H. S. Penhale, G.O.C. Western Army Command, following a recent inspection of the Scottish reserve unit, emphasized the importance of the civilian soldiers' outfits in being a nucleus to mold strong fighting regiments in the event of a national emergency.

The general said their value had been clearly exemplified in previous wars to get the nation prepared to take the field of battle.

New Traffic Lights For Busy Corners

New traffic lights for a number of busy corners were included in the $35,403 estimate for street warning and traffic signs approved by City Council at its budget meeting Tuesday.

Included are lights for Fernwood and Pandora, Belleville and Government, Quadra and Fort and Blanshard and Pandora.

It is believed the estimate will also cover needed traffic signals for the Oak Bay Junction when the public works committee gets its new traffic plan ready for that area.

The United States uses 1,300 square feet of plate glass annually for each 1,000 of her population.

NEW PROCEDURE

Reserve Men In Navy Get Trip South

For the first time in Canadian naval history, a naval reserve division will go away as a unit when Victoria's division, H.M.C.S. Malahat visits California in July aboard Malahat's training ship Sault Ste. Marie, it was announced today.

H.M.C.S. Sault Ste. Marie will sail from her Esquimalt base June 30. She will visit San Diego July 5, San Pedro July 8-10 and San Francisco July 11-13, returning to Esquimalt July 16.

During the voyage, Sault Ste. Marie, under command of Lieut. A. R. Heater, R.C.N. (R), will carry Cmdr. R. Jackson, R.C.N. (R), commanding officer, Malahat, as senior reserve officer present afloat.

Malahat personnel will take their share in manning the ship and make her function as a fully-commissioned warship.

Lectures on seamanship and related subjects will be given during the morning, followed up by practical work.

The first permanent Indian mission was established in New France in 1613.

Fine For Logging Truck Overload

Drivers of vehicles carrying overloads are being charged by B.C. Provincial police in court. Gilbert S. McNutt, Elizabeth Street, pleaded guilty in provincial court Tuesday to operating an overloaded logging truck. He was fined $15 and $3 costs by Magistrate A. I. Thomas.

Police officers will be on the watch for trucks with extra wide bunks that enable greater carrying capacity and will keep an eye out for other types of overloading, believed to be the major cause of road break-ups.

Fear Spread Here Of Poultry 'Bug'

Island poultry breeders, fearing a recent outbreak of Newcastle disease in the Fraser Valley may spread to Vancouver Island, are considering petitioning the provincial government to have the island declared a restricted area.

If restricted, no eggs, chicks, chickens or shipping crates from the epidemic area could come to the island.

Island breeders say the restrictions would not affect the public adversely. Eggs still could be imported from the Okanagan, the Kootenays, and Alberta.

Back Into The Ring

Charles Gillis, C.C.F. member of Parliament for Cape Breton South, demonstrates how he tackled a Communist sympathizer in the back alley of an Ottawa hotel. Mr. Gillis, an ex-coal miner, said he intervened during an argument between an elderly man and a young man in the hotel tavern. The youngster, he said, tried to have the other thrown out because he would not listen to the "old commie line." So Mr. Gillis invited him to step outside and there "tossed in a couple of rights" to his jaw. Mr. Gillis was welterweight champion of the Canadian Corps in the First World War. (CP Photo)

Czechs Order U.S. Close Two Information Offices

Monasteries To Be Apartments

LONDON (AP)—Czechoslovakia's Communist-led government is going to turn many Roman Catholic monasteries into apartment buildings and social and health institutions, dispatches from Prague said Tuesday night.

The official Czechoslovakia news agency, according to the reports, said the conviction of 10 monks April 5 for alleged anti-state activities had shown that many monasteries were harboring "hostile agents, spies and even murderers."

HARRIMAN BIDS FOR NEW YORK GOVERNORSHIP

U.S. Ambassador May Be Given N.Y. Nomination

NEW YORK (UP)—W. Averell Harriman, U.S. Ambassador-at-large, made his bid today for the democratic gubernatorial nomination with the blessings of President Truman.

While New York Democratic leaders insisted the President is maintaining a "hands off" policy and that the race is wide open, they admitted Harriman is acceptable to Mr. Truman. He also "looks good" to the city leaders, but he still must sell himself to upstate chairmen.

Harriman will get his chance when he delivers the principal political speech at the annual Democratic $100-a-plate dinner. It was reported he will endorse the principles of the Roosevelt New Deal and the Truman Fair Deal.

ROOSEVELT INVITED

Some of the ambassador's supporters are hoping to persuade Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. to accept the nomination for Lieutenant-Governor. They feel such a ticket would appeal to both conservative and Liberal Democrats.

State Democratic chairman Paul E. Fitzpatrick, considered a possible "darkhorse" candidate, stepped out of the picture. He told party leaders that he would not accept the nomination while he is still chairman.

Ice Queen May Visit London

LONDON (CP)—Barbara Ann Scott of Ottawa, former world and Olympic figure skating queen who now is a professional, may visit London this summer to play the title role in the ice version of "Rose Marie," it was learned today.

The Rudolf Friml operetta will be staged in Harrington Arena by producer Tom Arnold. It will open July 15. Arnold now is in North America seeking to line up name stars for the chief roles and Miss Scott is reported among those he is after.

The Ottawa skater now is touring Canada in the show "Skating Sensations of 1950." Casting for "Rose Marie" is going forward here and directors have been trying to lure a number of Canadian hockey players who live in Britain into the show's Mountie chorus. It was reported that Wm. Cook of Portage la Prairie, Man., and Ken Kennedy of Calgary, both stars with Harrington Racers of the British Ice Hockey Association, have tried out for parts.

PENNY'S OF VICTORIA

RIGHT THROUGH — YATES TO VIEW

Encouraging To Taxpayers

IN THESE DAYS OF RISING MILL rates, Victoria's ability to make even a small reduction from that of last year provides a note of encouragement for taxpayers. It may be assumed that the cut has been made possible by elimination of funds for certain work that is desirable. There is a difference, however, between what departments of the city would like to do and what they must do to furnish the services required by an expanding population. Psychologically, at least, the lowering of taxes is of substantial value.

In Oak Bay upward revision of the taxable percentage of improvement assessment has been undertaken in a way to minimize any climb in the mill rate. Such action is justifiable, although the net result may be negligible to the homeowner. In Saanich, Reeve Joseph Casey hopes to pare estimates to a point at which the increase in the rate will be only a few mills. In Esquimalt, members of the council heard the other night that the sum of $80,000 is needed to carry out public works that are waiting to be done, but that $28,000 only is available for that purpose this year and of that sum $15,750 has already been spent. In the latter municipality, hope rests on implementation of the Federal Government's promise of a grant.

Against the financial pictures of the other municipalities, the city appears to have recorded a major accomplishment.

Treated With Restraint

THE UNITED STATES ATTITUDE ON the case of the American plane missing off the Latvian coast for more than a week has taken a more definite turn, following close investigation of the available facts. The Soviet had charged that the aircraft—a U.S. Navy plane on a flight from Wiesbaden to Copenhagen—was intercepted over Latvian territory and opened fire when challenged by Russian fighters. The Kremlin said that one fighter replied to the American attack, and the aircraft then headed toward the sea and disappeared.

Against this, it seems to have been reliably established that the plane had no armament except for a pistol carried by the pilot, that it was over Latvian territory it likely was due to failure of radio and direction-finding equipment, and that the Russian attack was responsible for its loss. To this the United States has now added the direct charge that the Soviet fighters shot the plane down over the open water of the Baltic Sea, and a demand that the U.S.S.R. punish those responsible and indemnify the dependents of the lost airman.

The American demand has been

Taxes in Victoria, of course, are still high. They may go higher when the property owners have faced the almost inevitable commitment required to finish the school building program.

By the same token, however, it is becoming more obvious that outside districts, Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt, are facing capital expenditures for services which have already been paid by Victoria. In the next few years it may become less fashionable for critics outside Victoria to attack the city for the amount of its debt charges, heavy as they may be.

Another point of some significance in Victoria's handling of the budget this year is the marked lack of haggling that has been a source of irritation on many other occasions. Provided adequate funds were furnished the different departments—and department heads were given the opportunity to speak for themselves—the council may congratulate itself on doing a good job. Some progress at least has been made when the various aldermen refrain from slashing about, in an effort to reduce other votes while protecting their own, without knowing exactly the results of their budgetary assaults. The abandonment of unintelligent butchering and the horse-trading for support that accompanied it in council work a few years ago, shows a more sensible approach to consideration of the city's financial needs.

vigorously delivered, but its very nature indicates the change that has occurred in international relations over the years. Time was when such an occurrence would have constituted an international incident leading almost inevitably to the threat of war. But war between two such opponents today would mean a global war. The lives of millions cannot be jeopardized because 10 lives have been lost, disturbing as that incident may be. The United States Government will be commended for the level-headed attitude it has adopted, while still asserting its rights to proper respect for its nationals and its property. Nothing is to be gained by drum-beating and incendiary speeches in the present instance, and it is fortunate that the outbursts of the more volatile American senators and members of the House of Representatives will not be entered on the plane of official diplomatic exchanges. It is noteworthy, too, that in the face of two conflicting versions of the incident, the free world's press is inclined to view the Russian story with suspicion. Thus does a nation's reputation, based on past acts, become evident in a crisis.

Costing Canada Too Much

IN THE FIRST OF HIS SERIES OF articles on narcotic addiction in Canada, published in this paper yesterday, Canadian Press writer Mel Sufirin notes that merchants in Vancouver estimated losses due to theft by addicts in one year alone at $3,000,000. Mr. Sufirin did not go into detail to show how expensive stolen goods were sold at a fraction of their value to receivers. He did, however, note that men and women dependent on illegal channels for heroin paid at the rate of $8,750 an ounce for a drug priced at $11 on the legal market.

The cost factor remains an important element in consideration of the narcotic problem. Too many thefts are being committed by individuals who must obtain money quickly to satisfy the demands of addiction. Other crime is traceable to the same cause. On a dollar and cents basis, Canada just cannot afford to let the evil continue, nor permit it to grow as it threatens to do. Mr. Sufirin attacks the financial loss entailed by the drug traffic from another angle. He notes the cost in police, court, and prison maintenance that is necessitated in handling those who go beyond the law because of their addiction. That, in itself, can amount to a staggering total.

Without regard to any humanitarian considerations, it becomes obvious that this country needs a better way of handling the problem. Our present methods are too expensive and too inefficient. In the majority of cases they merely remove temporarily from circulation those who persist in crime to raise the money to buy their drugs on the black market. Such a system is something less than satisfactory. Surely a more scientific method could be employed.

Russian Farmers Due For Another Revolution As Government Wipes Out Old Village Economy

By EDWARD CRANKSHAW, From London

THE KREMLIN is entering on a strenuous and perhaps final effort to bring the peasantry of the Soviet Union completely under its control. This policy has been visibly taking shape for some time past.

Decree after decree—some having nothing on the face of it to do with agriculture, such as the devaluation of the rouble—has been promulgated with the general aim of crushing the stubborn spirit of individualism by bringing the peasants more completely under central supervision while at the same time making it less profitable for them to neglect their communal work in favor of remunerative sidelines.

VILLAGE ECONOMY

The stranger to Russia, having heard so much of the bitter struggle for collectivization and its ultimate success, finds it hard to grasp the fact that by far the greater part of the collectives are still based on the old village economy. The peasants still live as they have always lived in their old wooden cottages with one, two or three rooms, facing each other down the long broad unmetalled village street.

Instead of working for their landowners as before the revolution, or on their own small holdings as immediately after, they now work together on the combined village acreage, putting in so many hours a week on the collective,

and for the rest of the time cultivating their own personal holdings of an acre or two, the produce of which they are free to sell as they like. (It was this activity which the government sought to curb by the Agricultural Tax, which taxes earnings from private holdings very heavily indeed.)

By and large on all but the biggest and most up-to-date collectives, life goes on in much the same old way. The main differences are that instead of the landowner there is the manager, or chairman, of the collective, assisted by a small administrative staff; while when tractors or other machines are called for, those are supplied and worked under contract by the members of the nearest Machine Tractor Station.

The government has declared its intention of changing all that, and the fact that it is now determined to obliterate the last vestiges of the old village economy, to which the peasants have clung so dearly, through thick and thin, is a measure of the concern with which it views the long-term food situation.

Khrushchev in his important speech gave a clear hint to the smaller collectives to amalgamate themselves—unless they wanted to be amalgamated by force. He cited some extremely revealing figures about the size of the farms in the Moscow region, where he said, 26 per cent of the collectives had less than 250

Strangle Hold

By O.F.N.S. Correspondent from Buenos Aires

WHILE WORLD CONVENTIONS AT which pious resolutions in favour of the liberty of the Press have continued to be held with the assistance of delegations from this country, Argentina has been engaged in the preparation and execution of plans to strangle newspaper freedom within its own borders. The process has been gradual but obvious.

The Press, of course, is wholly free in the Argentine Republic. It may have to submit to certain regulations. Its editors and publishers may be arrested and prosecuted for "desacato" (a local form of lese majeste) should they criticize persons in authority; but so long as it tocs the party line and does not seek to query acts of government, it has liberty to do what it is told.

LA PRENSA is not only the greatest newspaper in Argentina; it is also the principal journal in the Spanish-speaking world. It is conservatively assembled and presented; but it is outspoken, even if its choice of words is careful and invariably in the best of taste. It is analytically critical and is ever a thorn in the side of any administration which it believes to be making the law follow the Government instead of the Government follow the law.

Obviously, such an organ of opinion could scarcely be other than inconvenient to an elected authority attempting to change the whole social, economic and constitutional structure of the country. The problem however was how best to silence "La Prensa" without causing too great a sensation or criticism abroad.

AN EFFECTIVE WAY of dealing with the problem had to be found; and soon it was forthcoming in the adoption of economic measures, principally in the curtailment of the number of pages which newspapers were allowed to print. The paper shortage and the lack of enough foreign exchange to pay for unlimited supplies of newsprint was put forward in justification of the step taken. But since "La Prensa" was by far the largest journal in the country—with a consequent heavy mass of small and displayed advertising—it was hardest hit by the new measures.

"LA PRENSA" remained anxious but unimpaired. It had of necessity to be more cautious than it was under previous administrations; but its comments, if more subtle, were not less inconvenient. All the while, the knife was being sharpened. Then it fell.

Allegations had been made that political and other prisoners were being subjected to severe tortures by the police. The question was brought before Congress and it was decided that there should be a full investigation by a mixed commission. A supporter of the Government, Sr. Visca, was named president of the commission, its two secretaries were one Peronista and one Radical.

Later it was decided to have a Congressional inquiry, into Radical activities, and the task was handed to the committee already appointed to investigate the alleged tortures. It proved difficult to find a quorum. The tortures passed into history, but the president and one secretary—Sr. Decker, the Peronista—began investigations on their own account.

SUPPORTED BY POLICE, they visited the offices of a number of firms and institutions and then turned their attention to the newspapers. Anti-government organs found their newsprint supplies cut off, because the principal importers had been penalized. That was because some or all of them had been guilty during the war of paying heed to the Allies' trading black lists; they had "submitted to orders from foreign embassies" in violation of Argentine sovereignty. Other journals were closed because they had forgotten to obey an order to place alongside their headlines the legend, "Year of the Liberator, General San Martin, 1950."

From all parts of the country came reports of newspapers closed down sine die or anxiously seeking for the release of their newsprint supplies so that they might reappear.

DIVIDED MIND

The democratic fellowship of which your correspondent "Humanist" supplies a definition is surely the goal at which all of good will are aiming. Why do we find it so difficult to reach? Is it not because fear is so rampant amongst us? Yet in democracy there is nothing to fear except self. The experience of very many has proved that this fear begins to lose its power the moment a courageous attempt is made to practise the art of fellowship.

"Humanist" wisely draws attention to the need for every one to think clearly about the supernatural. So long as a mind feels that it is necessary to cling to the concept of a supernatural world that mind is divided—immature.

TRAFFIC AND SAFETY

What happened to the Greater Victoria Traffic and Safety Council?

The answer is very simple. The Council was an organization formed by some of Victoria's citizens. They were members of different organizations, representing clubs, unions, societies, etc. A charter was obtained from the government and under the Societies Act the door was opened for business.

Provincial Police, City Police, Oak Bay and Saanich Police were included on the most important committee—Safety Traffic. Pamphlets, membership cards, and stickers were printed and offered to the public. Every service station in Victoria had them on display. Membership fee was $1 a year. Out of about 28,000 vehicles registered in the Victoria area alone, only 420 motorists became members of our organization.

This organization made a great effort to safeguard the public, to reduce accidents and to prove to our citizens the value of willingness and sincerity in abiding by the rules of the road.

This organization should have been backed up by the motorist and also should have received a lot more encouragement from our City Council and Public Works Committee. Many other important matters were on the agenda: such as establishing proper playgrounds for our children, etc.

All services done by the members of the executive committee were free of remuneration and I can assure the public and the motorists that not one single cent has ever been paid out except for the printing of cards, pamphlets and stickers.

The reason we failed is not ours but yours, Mr. and Mrs. Motorist. Our organization is not dead, we are waiting for you to come in.

CHAS. H. de LURE,
Member Executive Committee

IN REPLY

I notice that in your reported talk given by Mr. D. L. MacMurchie of the Parks Division of the B.C. Forest Service, to the Victoria Natural History Society recently, Mr. MacMurchie is quoted as saying in speaking of that district between Victoria and Jordan River, that there were endless "No Trespassing" signs, but "not one stretch of foreshore where children could hunt crabs or skip stones across the water."

Such statements I feel should not go unchallenged, especially when made by a man in a responsible position.

"No Trespassing" signs are placed on a property in nearly all cases for a very definite and necessary purpose—fire protection. Mr. MacMurchie, being connected with the B.C. Forest Service, though admittedly not with the Protection Branch, nevertheless should know this to be true.

On any week-end throughout the summer months, Mr. MacMurchie will find numbers of cars, mostly from Victoria, parked at the side of the road all along the Sooke Highway wherever the road runs close to the water, whilst their occupants are picnicking on the beach. Has Mr. MacMurchie motored up Sooke River Road on a Sunday and seen the endless procession of cars taking happy families out to bathe and picnic all along the Sooke River? Has he driven down the Whiffen Spit Road where he and his family can walk along the Spit and skip stones or hunt crabs to their hearts content, along with all the rest of those people who are out doing the same thing? Has Mr. MacMurchie stopped to sit on the shore and picnic on that long stretch of beach by Tugwell Creek? Has he watched the children playing on the beach at Muir Creek? Has Mr. MacMurchie ever attended, along with the six or seven thousand other Victorians who annually visit the beautiful Sooke River flats on All Sooke Day?

The Sooke Community Association receives innumerable requests all through the summer months from Victoria firms for permission to hold their employees' picnics on the Sooke River flats, and I am informed that permission has never been refused, nor has any charge ever been made to date.

WALTER CONDOR,
Pres. Sooke-Jordan River Chamber of Commerce, Sooke, B.C.

SEAGULLS

Our attention has been called to an item which appeared in your issue of March 24, 1950, which said in part:

"Seagull egg-searching and hard-bolling expeditions have been suggested around Patricia Bay Airport."

"In England, the R.A.F. maintains squadrons of falcons trained to clear the skies surrounding airports of birds. In Canada, noise of motors is relied upon to scare them away."

"A U.S. flier recently came out with a suggestion: 'Collect the eggs from the nests, hard-boil and return them.' The birds will become discouraged and move away."

We would point out that the item may have the unfortunate effect of suggesting to your readers that seagulls and their nests and eggs may be molested with impunity, or even with official sanction. All seagulls are protected under the Migratory Birds Convention Act, and no molestation of them or of their nests or eggs is lawful except under permits which are granted only in exceptional circumstances and subject to strict safeguards.

The method of control suggested in the final paragraph of the item would be illegal unless it was carried out under such a permit. The issue of permits for this purpose has not yet been given official consideration.

The treatment of eggs of sea gulls to prevent their hatching has been tried in areas where an excess of gulls rendered control operations desirable. It was found that this does not cause the gulls to move away. On the contrary, they continue to incubate longer than normal.

Methods of clearing birds from airfields have been the subject of research in Canada by this Division, in co-operation with air services. This study is being continued. Appropriate permits are issued to the proper authorities as required.

The reference to the R.A.F. using "squadrons of falcons" is somewhat exaggerated. The R.A.F. are informed, has used falcons experimentally at certain airfields, with fairly satisfactory results. However, the difficulty of obtaining and training falcons and the losses of falcons from various causes make this method of clearing birds from airfields impracticable on a large scale.

THE American note to Russia regarding the shooting down of an unarmed United States plane over the Baltic Sea, with the loss of a crew of 10, is tough in any man's language.

The communication is introduced with the punctilious phraseology of diplomatic language but soon develops a thoroughly two-fronted approach in which blunt "demands" are made.

This note was in reply to the Soviet charge of April 11 that a U.S. plane had flown over Latvia and exchanged gunfire with Soviet aircraft. Whatever the American reply lacked in bluntness was added verbally by Michael McDermott, state department press officer, who declared at a press conference:

"This attitude of the Soviet government shows clearly the insincerity of its oft-proclaimed desire for peaceful relations with the United States and the non-Soviet world in general."

Having thus declared its position, where does the U.S. go from here? Supposing Moscow tosses back the fighting reply which Gen. Anthony C. McAuliffe made to the German demand for surrender in the Battle of the Bulge: "Nuts." Does the United States government then have to take umbrage and sever diplomatic relations?

No so many years ago such notes as have been exchanged between Moscow and Washington over the Baltic affair would have had grave results. However, we are passing through a strange and hectic period in which values have changed sharply, at least temporarily.

There is no present indication that this new quarrel is worse than numerous other developments in the cold war. The U.S. certainly means business in the present instance, but a Russian rejection might result in another stalemate. That would mean a heightening of the tension, which obviously would continue the trend away from peace.

The Washington note doesn't put a chip on Uncle Sam's shoulder. It does make it plain that he refuses to be pushed about.

IRONIC

Ottawa Citizen

The Times of London reports that there is talk in the United States of giving direct help to American industries which are affected by European competition, rather than take fresh steps to exclude foreign goods. It seems ironic that the country which is, perhaps, the world's stoutest advocate of the free enterprise system should fear the competition which is the foundation of free enterprise.

NO ENEMIES

Winnipeg Free Press

During the course of his active working life, almost every man makes some enemies. It is doubtful if many will be able to retire from their labors with the same certainty as to an absence of enemies as that expressed recently by William Malcolm Page of Manchester in England.

Mr. Page was one of Britain's best known detectives. His record includes the catching of 3,000 criminals, 44 of whom were murderers. He told the London Daily Mail that he always tried to be decent "even with the worst of crooks," and out of all the crowd which he had brought to book, he had made only 44 enemies.

And, he added, every one of those 44 enemies had been hanged.

The average man, lacking the same convenient means of getting rid of his enemies, may perhaps be permitted to indulge in a small amount of envy.

Ups And Downs

By BRIAN A. TOBIN

"THERE'S nothing," said the Elevator Man, "like a good excuse to put over a point. You may wrangle with a man for hours, but the quickest way to make him agree—unless he's the kind that holds out in the face of obvious proof—is to give him an actual illustration of what you're trying to drive home. Nothing like cold facts to end a hot argument—or sometimes to start one. Going up?"

"You take," said the Elevator Man, "that school teacher in Burnaby. She found that most of her class thought white-bread jam sandwiches, cake, candy and pop made an ideal lunch. They turned thumbs down on brown bread, carrots, apples and milk. So the teacher got six rats and fed some the first diet, some the second. In little more than a month there was such a difference in the health and appearance of the rats that the kids all voted for brown bread and milk and that's the popular lunch with them now. They didn't believe their ears, but they knew their eyes weren't fooling them. And those rats told the story like nothing else could—Lower main!"

"Well," said the Elevator Man, "we could do a lot worse than those school kids did. Seeing is believing. We can look around us today and see the miserable way some nations are living. It doesn't seem to jibe with what the propagandists say. The paradise seems to be short a few important items, like having some say in what your life will be, or calling your soul your own. Let's look again and see which are the fat rats and which are the lean rats, and then decide whether we'll have milk or soda pop."

$172,600 Estimates Cut Lowers Tax One Mill

Reduction To 52 Rate Despite Higher Salaries And Other Costs

The city fathers wound up a history-making estimates meeting Tuesday confident that the general public would be pleased with their day's work.

They not only set a tax rate but also a record by completing the budget in just under five hours. In years gone by setting the budget has been prefaced by days and nights of heated debate and estimates slashing.

CURFEW CALLS

City Fathers Question If It Is Heard

Calling all youngsters . . . Do you by any chance listen to the curfew being rung atop the brewery every night?

If so, the city fathers would be very happy to hear about it. The big question of whether to cut out the $100 item in their 1950 estimates for ringing the curfew hinged on this important aspect.

They agreed to leave it in for this year but most aldermen were of the opinion no one, at least no children, paid the whistle the slightest heed.

"A hundred dollars to blow the whistle, you say?" . . . that's just what Ald. Percy Scurren asked again.

"The brewery makes enough money anyway," said Ald. Waldo Skillings. "They should donate the whistle every night."

Uranium Ore Prices Raised

TORONTO (CP)—A graded price for uranium running as high as $6 a pound for uranium oxides as compared with the present price of $2.75 was announced Tuesday by W. J. Bennett, president of the government's Eldorado Mining and Refining Ltd.

Thanks to the first-class piloting of Ald. Harold M. Diggon, chairman of the finance committee, aldermen were given quick briefing on where the budget might be cut and what mill rate could be expected.

The tax rate dropped one mill from 53 to 52 with approximately $172,600 pared from estimates. Amount to be raised by taxes is $2,407,149.

City Comptroller D. A. Macdonald said he would require one week to recheck figures and would be able to bring a by-law to council in two weeks' time.

SHOULD PLEASE PUBLIC

"I think the general public should be pleased with the reduction of one mill when salaries have increased and education and police costs gone up," said Ald. Dr. J. D. Hunter.

When council accepted Mr. Macdonald's recommendation that the rate be struck at 52 mills with a mill to produce $45,700 compared with $42,821 last year, compliments were the order of the day.

"This has been an outstanding day," said Mayor Percy George as he lauded not only Ald. Diggon and Mr. Macdonald but the entire council.

He remarked he had seen nothing like it in his six years of receiving budgets. "This is my 27th budget and I don't ever remember one going through so smoothly," said the veteran comptroller with a gleam in his eye. "Years ago all estimates first went to a committee before they ever came to council. It was called the cut-throat committee."

When asked if he felt happier over this year's budget than last year he remarked: "Decidedly."

Ald. Diggon extended his personal thanks for the co-operation his committee received from the comptroller and his department.

THE HOME GARDEN

'Seedbed' Necessary, Must Be Built Right

By JACK G. BEASTALL

As we progress in knowledge of gardening we must not forget the beginners who crave explanation of the most elementary terms and practices.

The term "seedbed" is used very loosely. It refers to a specially prepared medium in which seeds are to germinate, and is usually applied to outside growing.

Within the greenhouse the seedbed becomes the "seed-flat" and this may be a shallow box, a flower pot, a regulation seed pan, or a small section of a raised bed.

REMOVE ALL LUMPS

Regardless of what utensil or space is used, the soil is always of a nature which will assist germination. It should be screened to remove all lumps, or worked until a high degree of fineness is reached.

Sand, up to 50% of the bulk.

is incorporated to keep the soil open for air and root penetration, and sufficient finely screened peat moss is added to hold a reasonably steady supply of moisture.

Unless the seedlings must remain undisturbed for a long period (those which form bulbs or tubers), the seedbed mixture may be devoid of plant nutrients. Sand alone, and exploded mica, is used extensively for seed germination, the latter having many commendable features.

TRANSFER EARLY

This lack of food in the medium makes it imperative that the seedlings be transferred to a richer soil as early as possible. As with children, lack of essential nutrients in early stages of growth will be reflected through the entire life of the plants.

For generations writers have repeated the statement that one, or sometimes two, sets of true leaves should develop before transplanting. This is permissible in outdoor sowings, but commercial practice on inside germinated seedlings is to prick them out as soon as the seed leaves are large enough to handle.

Try an experiment for yourself. Pick out a few seedlings as soon as you can handle them. Repeat this every four days until those in the seed-flat reach the size at which you would normally move them. Compare the resultant growth and determine for yourself the benefits of early transplanting.

Suspension For Auto Prowlers

Peter J. Cornish and David Jones, 27-year-old Victoria men, were given six-month suspended sentences by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court Tuesday for prowling parked cars and stealing articles.

Each was ordered to post $500 bond to insure good behavior for the period.

They pleaded guilty to two charges of theft from cars last week, and Magistrate Hall said he was giving the suspended term in view of their fine character, as given by witnesses and the probation officers, of no previous convictions and good service records.

Committee To Suggest Improved Elections Act

Commons, 136 To 23, Defeats Motion Directing Criticism At Government

OTTAWA (CP)—A broad demand for improved facilities for advance voting in general elections emerged in the Commons Tuesday as the House approved establishment of a special committee to consider amendments to the elections act.

For various reasons, members of several parties advocated revision of the act to broaden and better those provisions which allow some people, such as commercial travelers, to vote ahead of time. The voting problems of fishermen, railway and suburban dwellers were specifically raised.

Speakers in the debate on voting included Rev. E. G. Hansell, S.C., Macleod; Gordon Graydon, P.C.; Peel; John Diefenbaker, P.C.; Lake Centre; M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, and Maj. Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., P.C., Nainimo.

Mr. Diefenbaker revived a call for a thorough investigation of the merits of the single transferable vote, used provincially in Manitoba, and suggested the committee call experts to testify on the system.

(Under the single transferable vote system, the voter indicates his choice of candidates on the ballot as first, second, third and so on. If no one candidate has a clear majority on the first count of ballots, returning officers take the other choices into account until a majority candidate emerges.)

He urged also that steps be taken to ensure there would be no repetition of the illegal voting which took place in the 1949 general election in the Nova Scotia riding of Annapolis-Kings, where a new election has been ordered.

TO PREVENT ABUSES

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, joined him in urging that every effort be made to prevent "abuses" of the elections act. No doubt should be cast on the status of any member elected to the Commons.

To Start Street Light Plan Soon

Installation of 507 lights in the Saanich areas formerly called Wards Two and Seven and a portion of One, the result of ratepayers' approval of a $44,000 street lighting by-law last December, will begin early in the summer, Reeve J. W. Casey reports.

It is hoped the project will be completed by the autumn. Equipment has been ordered by the B.C. Electric which will handle the installation. Saanich Wiring Inspector F. T. Copthorne will work on the project.

At the night sitting, Maj. Gen. Pearkes said the committee should consider amendments to the services voting clauses of the act and to those covering advance polls so fishermen could be sure of a vote.

Military officers were not accustomed to discussing politics and it was natural they should feel themselves ignorant of electoral details.

Stanley Knowles (C.C.F.-Winnipeg North Centre) brought up the case of people who could not vote because they had to be away from their homes election day. The advance polls should be widened to include anyone who was to be absent election day. They could merely make a declaration.

MOTION REJECTED

Tuesday was a busy, far-ranging day that saw these developments:

1. Liberal and Social Credit members united to defeat by a vote of 136 to 23 a C.C.F. motion criticizing the government for failure to implement the "promise" made at the National Liberal Convention of 1948 to impose selective price controls "in any field where prices proved to be unreasonable." The Progressive Conservatives supported the C.C.F.

2. Approval was given to establishment of a house committee to study activities of the National Research Council after Trade Minister Howe had indicated that Canada's study of the effects of extreme winter weather, linked with development of the north, is being extended to housing.

DEFENCE MEASURE

3. First reading or preliminary approval was given the government's bill to consolidate defence legislation in one act that comprises the largest single bill to confront the House in more than 15 years.

4. Ross Thatcher (C.C.F.-Moose Jaw) and A. C. Stewart (L-Yorkton) gave divided opinions about a private bill by Mr. Thatcher for abolition of hanging or punishment for murder. Mr. Thatcher said hanging violates every Christian principle. Mr. Stewart said it is necessary deterrent for protection of the innocent.

Dope Addicts Encourage Girl Friends

The dope addict often tries to introduce his girl friend to the drug habit. He knows that she will have to depend on him for her drug supply for a while at least and will work hard for him. Scenes like this, showing dope being administered by hypodermic needle, are fairly common in Canada.

Stamping Out Narcotic Addiction Made Difficult By Legal Paradox

This is the second of a series of articles on narcotic addiction problems in Canada.

By MEL SUTHERIN

OTTAWA (CP)—It's not unlawful to be a drug addict in Canada. It is an offence, however, to be in possession of narcotics without a license.

This legal paradox is one of the things that make the job of police so difficult in attempting to stamp out drug addiction.

In the larger Canadian cities, where the problem is centred, police inevitably get to know dozens of addicts. But these persons may go about freely for months before they are either caught with drugs in their possession or are arrested while receiving dope from a trafficker. In this case, while the police are pleased to nab the addict, they receive considerably more satisfaction from catching the persons who sell the dope for prices ranging as high as $9,000 an ounce.

Mounties and municipal police are well-trained in Canada in methods of recognizing possible addicts.

A report on drug addiction in Canada, written by Gordon H. Josie and published last year by the Federal Health Department, tells something about addicts.

He quotes authorities as saying the mortality rate among addicts is high in comparison with the general population. This is due in part to the fact that many are diseased when they contract the drug habit.

There are various ways in which a person can become addicted. Opportunity is one which applies especially to medical and related professions and persons working in hospitals where drugs are handy.

Another is the injudicious use of drugs in medical treatment, leaving the person with a longing for the narcotics even after the treatment is no longer necessary.

Contact with persons addicted or peddling dope may produce an addict. Other causes are curiosity, thrill-seeking, search for new experiences or even as an aid to life of crime.

From figures on convictions, it might be assumed that about 89 per cent of the 3,500 known criminal addicts in Canada are male.

About 31 per cent of the male addicts and 45 per cent of the female addicts are in the 25 to 35-year class. Five per cent of the women are 50 or over while 15 per cent of the males are in this advanced age group.

Of those convicted, it was found that 52 per cent were married; 96 per cent lived in cities, and that generally, male offenders were older than female addicts.

City Garbage Disposal Outdated, Says Alderman

No one in Victoria, not even the most irate householder, takes the question of garbage collection and disposal more seriously than Ald. Dr. J. D. Hunter, chairman of public works.

He saw his chances and took them at City Council estimates meeting Tuesday of slipping in a few words about the present garbage removal system, which he termed "outdated."

"The time is coming when we have to consider an entirely new system of garbage disposal and I know our engineer is looking into a scheme now in operation in Paisley, Scotland," Dr. Hunter told his colleagues.

He was undaunted when Ald. Frank G. Mulliner interrupted to say: "We all agree with the alderman, but it has nothing to do with these estimates." A special building with a built-in incinerator and an electric magnet to draw out all metal is the Paisley method and Dr. Hunter wanted the aldermen to interest all municipalities in a new garbage removal scheme.

"Such a building would cost Victoria about $250,000, but there is no place within our municipal boundaries for it," he told council.

Dr. Hunter outlined the difficulties experienced last winter when water froze and scows were piled high with garbage at the wharf.

Tourist Traffic Trebles With Austria Prices At Record Low

(This is the fourth in a series of articles on travel today in Europe.)

By CLIVE WINDEREMERE

VIENNA—Austria offers perhaps the cheapest of continental holidays to tourists. Official estimates for the current winter season are not complete—the season not yet being over—but the number of the British tourists visiting Austria has already doubled this season and is running into five figures.

The British tourist needs no Austrian visa, but has to obtain a Military Permit from the Military Permit Office (in Princes Gardens, London) which is a simple formality for the British, American and French occupation zones. To enter the Russian zone of Austria is more complicated, but the country's playgrounds are not in that zone. With a British passport you do not require a transit visa through either France or Switzerland.

The journey is simple, though long, taking 24 hours to VOERARBERG and some 24 hours to KITZBUHEL, the gayest and most popular place in the TYROL. You can make reservations only a few days before leaving.

You leave VICTORIA Station, London, at 1 p.m., and CALAIS at 6 p.m. in the ARLBERG EXPRESS, which arrives in KITZBUHEL the following day at 3 p.m. Between Calais and Kitzbuhel there is no need to leave the train. All the customs examinations, passport and currency controls are conducted on the train after Calais. And this is done by the French, Swiss and Austrian officials, with equal civility and a minimum of fuss.

Don't try to wash before the Swiss take over the train at BASLE; the French seem to take little interest in those international trains, for they do not even provide cold water. The journey begins to become picturesque when you reach the Austrian border at BUCHS.

ROADS OPEN

Throughout the winter, the roads between the Channel and Austria across France and Switzerland are kept open. The Ariberg Pass, carrying the main road from Switzerland via Vorarlberg into the Tyrol, remains, however, impassable for many weeks due to the heavy snow. During this period special facilities are available for the conveyance of cars by rail from Langen through the Ariberg Tunnel to St. Anton (a distance of eight miles).

Distances by road are: Channel port to the Austro-Swiss border about 500 miles; Austrian border to Kitzbuhel 185 miles. Gasoline is not rationed in Austria and coupons are issued in all local Austrian banks on presentation of travellers' cheques. Motorists are advised to book accommodation en route in advance, especially during the high season.

In Austria itself there is little difficulty in getting accommodation. There are first-class hotels throughout every region of Vorarlberg and the Tyrol. They are as good as any in Switzerland or France.

The food everywhere in Austria is excellent. It makes no difference whether you eat at the Grand Hotel of Kitzbuhel or at the KELLERWIRT at OBERBAU. You get good food with cheap drinks at the humblest and plainest-looking places.

RENT SKIS

If you do not have your own skiing outfits, you can either hire them (boots and skis) very cheaply—or buy the outfit for half the price you would have to pay in London.

SAVE $262 ON NEW CARS

There is good news for prospective car owners. You may take delivery of your new Chevrolet or Ford at the factory and save from $259 to $262 on the purchase price.

The air coach fare from Seattle to Detroit-Windsor is now only $85.50 by North West Airlines.

The bus fare to Oshawa (General Motors Factory) is $51.70 by Trailways and Greyhound. Fares include U.S.A. Exchange. Add $3.25 boat fare from Victoria to Seattle.

For further information call at Western Canada Travel Service, 602 Courtney Street.

Tourists need not worry unduly about the language as most of the local inhabitants, with whom they are in contact, speak English moderately well.

Austria has no economic restrictions. You can buy everything you want.

The winter season—in most places in the Tyrol—starts at Christmas and continues till Easter, but in March and April it is much safer to go to the Ariberg region where both sun and snow conditions are still perfect. The summer season starts in mid-June and lasts until the end of August. Though Austria is still occupied, there is little sign of the military occupation in the Western zones.

Research Workers Say Mice Transmit Cancer

Announce New Discovery As To How Males Cause The Disease In Females

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

ATLANTIC CITY (AP)—Male mice carry something that causes breast cancer in female mice, three University of Minnesota scientists reported here.

This something may be a virus, a tiny infectious agent.

It long has been known that female mice can transmit the agent to their offspring, through breast milk.

The evidence that male mice also can infect their mates and offspring is new.

It was reported to the American Association for Cancer Research by Drs. John J. Bittner, C. P. Barnum and Robert A. Huseby.

Dr. Bittner is discovered of the mysterious milk agent.

The agent presumably is transmitted through the male's seminal fluid.

Dr. Bittner said "there is no proof for or against" the existence of a similar agent in humans. It is known that breast cancers occur more often in some families than in the general population, but this isn't scientific proof of a parallel between mice and men, he said.

New Secretary

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Attlee Tuesday announced the appointment of a successor to Stanley H. Evans, outspoken junior minister who resigned under sharp fire from British farmers. He named Frederick T. Willey, Labor member of the House of Commons for Sunderland, to replace Evans as parliamentary secretary to the ministry of food.

Pupils Less Academically Minded Now

Victoria High School, was the oldest high school in the province, in its 74th year, H. L. Smith, principal, told members of the city Kiwanis Club Tuesday.

"And as many of you can doubt remember, I have been there almost half of that time. Yes, I think this is my 36th year at Vic High," Mr. Smith said.

"We have seen many changes since the days when you were young. The school now has a registration anywhere from 1,100 to 1,350 students," he continued.

Included in the numerous changes, Mr. Smith also pointed out the difference between past and present-day students.

"Looking at today's students, you will find they are not so academically minded as they were in the past, at least, not so many of them are."

"However, gentlemen, you must remember that today, 99 percent of grade eight students enroll at the high schools. It was different in our day. In most cases, grade eight was the final grade unless a student was unusually brilliant."

Students Play For Kiwanians

Four Victoria High School students entertained members of the city Kiwanis Club at their weekly luncheon meeting at the Empress Hotel Tuesday with a musical variety program.

Accompanying the students were Miss Norma Douglas, music director at Victoria High, and Harry L. Smith, school principal.

Cliff Haslam rendered a trumpet solo, "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings," and Malcolm Hamilton was heard in two piano selections. Comedy was provided by vocalists Diana Ricardo and Hugh Curtis. Their selection was "The Peony Bush."

Asked by Austin Curtis, program M.C., how she got school boys to sing in choirs and glee clubs, Miss Douglas answered:

"Boys and girls and people in general love to sing. The trick is choosing the type of music, not getting the boys to sing."

Several club members will journey to Olympia, Wash., on May 1 for an inter-club meeting. They will also meet with the Port Angeles club on May 2 on the return trip.

FLOOR POLISHER

$59⁵⁰
Complete with lamb's wool buffing pads

16 lbs.
FULL WEIGHT OF POLISHER IS ON THE BRUSHES

BRUSHES ARE FLAT ON THE FLOOR

COUNTER ROTATING BRUSHES EXACTLY BALANCE EACH OTHER

Easy to use... Light to carry... Gets into corners

The G-E Polisher takes the back-breaking labour out of polishing floors. Its counter-rotating brushes do a speedy, gleaming job on hardwood, linoleum and tile floors...right up to the baseboard, deep into corners, and close to furniture. Ask your neighborhood dealer to demonstrate this great new labour-saving G-E Floor Polisher, soon!

You just guide...it does all the work—

Here's why the G-E POLISHER is so quick

G-E Polisher's two 3½-inch brushes are flat on the floor, and the full 16-pound weight of the machine is on those brushes. An electric motor eliminates all the back-breaking labour by whirling the brushes over the floor at 600 revolutions per minute. This rapid rotation of the brushes with 16 pounds weight on them makes floors gleam in a hurry.

FROM THE FANSTAND

By PETE SALLAWAY, Times Sports Editor

SPOKANE—When Reg Patterson talked me into coming to Spokane by air he certainly didn't say anything about bouncing all the way. Those people who have told me they would rather take the air route all the time can have it. I'll walk next time. I didn't lose my lunch or anything like that but I do admit I swallowed hard several times. The fact that a former R.C.A.F. bomber pilot was at the controls didn't make those mountains any smaller or the air above the desert any less bumpy.

Krug Not Satisfied With Club

Had a long pre-game chat with Manager Marty Krug to get his honest opinion of the Athletics. "Peter, I'm not fully satisfied with the team as it stands now, but think just two more players in the right spots will give us a club that will make them all hustle," the quiet-spoken pilot said. "I don't think Al Smith will stack up in this league and we need another long ball hitting outfielder. I'm going along with big Bob Jensen in the outfield but whether or not he will still hit the ball when he starts looking at change up pitching remains to be seen."

Krug is confident his pitching staff is set and figures he has no worries in the catching department. That's as far as he'll go in calling any definite positions.

Victorians Make Debut

Athletics dropped the first game to Spokane but Victorians still grabbed a lion's share of the spotlight. One of the offensive stars for the home club was young Art Worth who was a surprise starter at first base. Moving up from the sand lots of Victoria to class B pro ball Worth got himself a single and 380-foot triple and scored two runs. Also in the Spokane line-up were three former Athletics—Frank Matoh at third base, Eddie Murphy in centre field and Sol Israel in right field.

Out in the infield was a Victoria boy, Gordie Perkins, making his debut as an umpire in class B ball. Partnered with Jerry Mathieu, Perkins handled himself like a veteran, although the Victoria players gave him the treatment in the first inning when he made what appeared to be a bad call on a play at first base. The questionable decision was indirectly responsible for Spokane's first run.

Hockey Big Sport In Spokane

Athletics are running into this hockey business in every town they hit. At Kamloops it was the Western Canada semifinals between the home town Elks and Calgary. Here they just concluded the semifinals of the U.S. amateur title series Monday night between the winning Spokane Flyers and New York Rovers. The seven-game series drew 21,000, with sell-out houses every night.

Local sports writers are of the opinion the series did a lot towards building up hockey interest in this inland city. Questioned regarding the possibility of Spokane seeking a franchise in the Pacific Coast League they figured the town is still a couple of years away from pro hockey. "We still have to educate more fans to the game, then I think backing could be found for a Coast League entry here," one scribe declared.

Canadian 'Hall Of Fame' To Be Opened April 27

Three Members Of Montreal Amateur Club To Be Honored With Memberships At Ceremony

MONTREAL (CP)—Official inauguration of the Canadian Amateur Athletic Hall of Fame will be held April 27 at the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association, it was announced Tuesday.

Viscount Alexander, Governor-General, will declare the Hall of Fame open and personally present certificates of membership in the organization to three members of the M.A.A.A.

The three, first-place winners in the past for Canada at Olympic Games, are Bert Schneider, boxer; George R. Hodgson, swimmer; and Myrtle Cook, sprinter.

The occasion will also be the annual dinner of life members of the M.A.A.A., with the Governor-General as guest of honor.

Lt.-Col. George C. MacDerm, president of the Hall of Fame Association, will speak briefly, describing formation of the organization and its purpose. He will read the citations of the three members receiving presentations.

There are 14 other members of the hall in various parts of Canada. Personal presentations will be made to them wherever possible; otherwise membership certificates will be mailed direct to the recipients.

So far, memberships in the Hall of Fame have been awarded only to first-place winners at Olympic Games. Later this year it is expected a number of other outstanding Canadian amateur athletes will be honored.

Other members of the Hall of Fame are Barbara Ann Scott, Ottawa, figure-skater; William J. Sherring, Hamilton, Ont., marathoner; Robert Kerr, Hamilton, sprinter; Percy Williams, Vancouver, sprinter; Ethel Catherwood, Saskatoon, high jumper; Bobbie Rosenfeld, Toronto, sprinter; Florence Bell, Toronto, sprinter; George Goulding, Toronto, walker; Horace (Lefty) Gwynne, Toronto, boxer; Earl Thompson, Calgary, hurdler; Duncan McNaughton, Winnipeg, high-jumper; A. Desmarre, Montreal, hammer-thrower; Frank Amyot, Ottawa, paddler.

Strathcona Cafe Captures Senior 10-Pin Crown

A clean sweep of their three-game set with Togery Shop gave Strathcona Cafe the Gibson's Senior Tenpin League title last night.

Watson's Men's Wear, who dropped a three-game set to the Bowladrome squad last night, and Togery Shop, also three-time losers, will engage in a sudden-death battle for the loop's runner-up slot.

All six clubs will enter the playdowns commencing Sunday evening at 7.

High man for the league champs was Cec Dixon with a 586 three-game total. Roy Begg notched the individual high score for the club however with a 235.

Teams and scores follow:

To The Winner Goes The Spoils

Sunday at Victoria Golf Club, Bob Fleming, left, of Gorge Vale, and Eric Hibberson of Uplands will meet in the 36-hole final of the C.J.V.I. Vancouver Island match play open golf tournament. Fleming advanced to the finals at Uplands last Sunday with a 6 and 4 victory over Bill Bird, while Hibberson turned back Vic Painter of Colwood, 2 and 1. Both matches were over 36 holes. In the women's 18-hole championship, Beryl Paterson meets Elizabeth Matson.

JOAN MORGAN WRITES HOME

Would You Let Your Daughter Visit The Continent For $75

Dear Mom:
"Please send me $75. I am planning on spending about six or eight days visiting Belgium, France and Holland," signed Joan.

Oh for the life of an athlete when the athletic chores are done. And one is almost forced to travel round the world just to get home again.

That's the problem Joan Morgan is finding herself blessed with these days as her world cruise following the recent British Empire Games in New Zealand takes her into such places as Australia, Aden, Colombo, through the Indian Ocean, the Mediterranean, into Southern France and on to England and London.

Joan, in case you don't know, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Morgan of 1352 St. Patrick Street, and she is one of the several Canadian Empire Games athletes on their way home via the points mentioned.

The extra money angle was a request of her parents so that she could visit the places mentioned in her stopover in England before leaving for Canada aboard the Queen Elizabeth on May 10. The rest of the trip is on the games' committee. Just reward for those long and arduous hours of training, one would say.

Joan's letters home are full of amusing and interesting incidents of the trip. Memories of the pleasant stay in New Zealand, which they hated to leave; the story of six exhibition swim meets in 14 days; the unbearable heat of the Indian Ocean; games aboard ship and many other items of a more personal interest are contained therein.

Joan's friends in the city might be interested to know that she now has a new nickname. It's "Bugs," short for "Bugs-Bunny." The moniker was tagged on Joan by some of her Empire Games teammates because of the way she wrinkles up her nose when she laughs.

In Ceylon which Joan describes as the most colorful place she has visited, the party spent an enjoyable day's outing in Colombo. It included a trip to the zoo, elephant riding, a visit to a Hindu and also Buddha temple, and watching a snake charmer give a performance of his art.

Joan says about the Buddha

Idols: "To show the size of these gods, the palm of my hand is smaller than the smallest toenails of them."

Of course a shopping trip is a must when in a foreign place and Joan and the girls went on such a tour accompanied by a Canadian woman who knew her way around. "Beggings is a trade in Colombo," Joan says. "Some even go so far as to deform themselves permanently. One of the boys said a mother holding a two-year-old child forced the little girl to hold her hand out when anyone passed."

But to get back to the trip to the Continent, Joan and other members of the team should be in England now. The ship was scheduled to arrive this Tuesday. Wonder if she received her $75?

Boxla Season To Open May 9

The city senior "B" box lacrosse league will open its season May 9 or 12 with four of the five teams entered playing a double-header at the Memorial Arena.

At a league meeting Tuesday night, entry of the Navy team was accepted unanimously. Others in the circuit are Foul Bay, last year's league winners; Tillicums, city champions; Jokers and J.B. A.A. The latter club is returning to competition after a one-year layoff.

Navy last entered a club in 1946.

GALA OPENING

League president Ed Popham and his executive were empowered to arrange a gala opening to start the season. It will be Tuesday, May 9, provided the arena is available. If it is not, opening date will be Friday, May 12.

Mondays and Fridays will be senior "B" nights at the arena, with doubleheaders planned throughout the summer, starting at 7.30 and 9. If previous commitments tie up the arena, games will be played on the nearest night, and if it is unavailable for any length of time, games will move to the Stevenson Park.

Though the Intercity League will experiment with six-man boxla, the local circuit will stick to the seven-man line-up which includes a rover.

JUNIOR ENTRIES

April 30 was set as deadline for junior entries, and it was decided the league will again operate midget and juvenile loops.

Meanwhile, vice-president Andy Ovcharik has asked anyone interested in refereeing to contact him at E 7032 or E 6818. Referees will get $5 for a single game, $8 for a doubleheader.

Senior league playoff arrangements call for the first four teams to play, first vs. fourth and second vs. third in the semifinals.

JUNIOR BASEBALL

Anyone interested in trying out for positions on the District junior division, Minor Baseball Association, team is invited to attend a workout at Oak Bay High School Thursday evening at 6.15.

It's Never too Soon to Plan for Retirement

Time flies! Happiness and comfort in retirement depend largely on financial security. The most practical way to ensure this is by insuring your life while retirement seems far off.

If you live to retirement age, nothing will then give you greater cause for thankfulness than the guaranteed monthly income your Life Insurance will provide. Should you not live to retire, that same Life Insurance will provide a guaranteed monthly income for your widow.

Because it provides financial security for both husband and wife, nothing brings greater peace of mind about the future than Life Insurance.

Windsor Prolongs Dominion Final

WINNIPEG, Man. (BUP)—Windsor A-K-O's climbed out of the basketball doghouse ready for a fresh shot at the junior title today after edging Winnipeg Steellars 50 to 45 in the Dominion final.

Windsor's win last night saved them from elimination in the best-of-five series and left the 'Peg cagers with a two games to one margin.

The fourth game was scheduled here tomorrow night, with the fifth, if necessary, on tap for Saturday.

Overfull Feeling May Be Serious Say Authorities

Digestive disturbance may be the early symptom of organic disorder, and if you are habitually troubled you should at once let your doctor satisfy himself that the condition is purely functional.

Usually, of course, the trouble is due primarily to the fact that you are eating too fast, or too much; you are overfed or not relaxed at meal times. Take it easy; eat plain foods; don't take your worries to the table—and get the habit of taking an Ayrton's Heartshape Bismuth Tablet after every meal.

Basically not dissimilar to other stomach remedies, the inclusion of two natural digestants—Pepsin and Pancreatin—may be the reason why Heartshape Tablets appear to be so much more effective.

Pleasant as an after-dinner Mint, it costs only a cent a meal to satisfy the Heartshape habit and feel good after eating. ***

Overbidding Often Less Expensive Than Passing

It is good policy to risk a penalty for a sound reason. For example, when the opponents hold better cards, you will probably lose points whether you bid or pass. In such a case you may lose less by overbidding than by passing tamely.

East had the right idea when he bid four spades. He didn't expect his partner to make that contract, but he felt sure that South could make four hearts and he was willing to pay a small penalty rather than give up the rubber.

East's bid worked out better than he had hoped. South arbitrarily decided that he could make five hearts and bid it. Actually, if he had played the hand right, he would have made five hearts. As it was, he went down one trick for a loss of 100 points.

West opened the king of spades, and dummy's ace won. Declarer took two top trumps and the ace of clubs. He next led a club from dummy and agonized a while over whether to play the queen or the 10. He finally finessed the 10, knocking out West's king.

West cashed his queen of hearts and got out safely by leading a second spade. Eventually South had to lose a diamond trick.

Had South doubled four spades, his side would have scored 300 points. However, South's correct course was to pass. This would put the decision up to his partner. North would either double or bid again, depending on the nature of his hand.

North would have had no problem.

HOLLYWOOD REVIEW

Movie Directors Import Stars From Field Of TV

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The movie business, eyeing television closely these days, also is eyeing the new medium's talent. Evidence of that is Charlton Heston, new film discovery imported from TV.

Heston landed an important role in "Dark City" on the strength of his video appearances. Producer Hal Wallis viewed him on a number of shows and signed the lad without a screen test. Naturally, Heston is hepped up about television. Says he:

"It's a wonderful new field for kids who want to act but have found the stage and screen closed to them." He pointed out that actors working in the theatre, radio and movies cannot do TV regularly. "That leaves it to the kids who aren't working."

NOTES 'N' STUFF

Friends of Rita Hayworth report she no longer signs her letters "Rita." It's "M.A.K." now. That stands for "Marguerita Ali Khan," her real name.

Joan Crawford, one of the most famed of the Charleston dancers, says she won't join the revival of the craze. "I've done the Charleston," she says. "I'm looking for something new."

Eleanor Tennant, who coached many a tennis star to championship, will be technical adviser for Ida Lupino's "Loving Cup." The picture purports to take amateur tennis apart.

Maria Montez reports she has done a play on television in France. She says the medium

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Talk Of Heart Attacks On Increase Is Exaggerated

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Nearly every day when you pick up the paper there is a report of someone dying suddenly from a "heart attack." In almost all cases this means a coronary thrombosis or occlusion (the two names meaning essentially the same thing). In coronary occlusion there is a sudden closing of one of the blood vessels supplying the heart muscle.

We hear and read of coronary thrombosis often and especially of those cases in which the outcome has not been good. Consequently, many people feel that coronary thrombosis is increasing and that anyone, especially any man over the age of 40 is living under the constant threat of immediate death. This is an exaggeration of the true facts.

Considering the increased average age of the population, coronary thrombosis is probably not increasing. Also there are many who have had at least one heart attack and have not died suddenly; many have even resumed full or nearly full activity after such an attack.

STARTLING

Coronary thrombosis, or occlusion, is however a startling thing. An attack can and usually does come without warning and without any particular exertion or strain in the immediate past which can be blamed. Coronary occlusion may come during a sound sleep or while sitting at rest in an easy chair.

A severe sudden pain in the chest, which may or may not extend down the arm (usually the left) to the abdomen, or up into the neck, together with shortness of breath and a feeling of faintness is enough to arouse suspicion. The definite diagnosis, of course, does require other tests which the doctor alone has the skill and equipment to make.

The person who even suspects an attack of coronary thrombosis, however, should cease activity at once and get the opinion of a doctor as to whether the condition is really coronary thrombosis or not.

SUDDEN DEATH

If a large part of blood supply to the heart is blocked off by a clot or closure of a coronary artery, it is impossible for the heart to go on beating. This is the type of heart attack which accounts for the sudden, unexpected deaths.

In a great many cases, however, only a small branch of an artery is closed off and the heart, especially with proper treatment, keeps on beating and can make a good recovery. How much recovery will take place depends on how much of the heart has been damaged.

About six weeks of rest in bed is required after an attack. The activity that can be taken later must depend on the judgment of the doctor who has determined the amount of injury to the heart and the degree of its recovery. Resumption of physical activity has to be gradual. There is good reason to believe that the more gradual the return the better the final results.

Busy City Solicitor Thanked By Council

City Council gave its city solicitor a hearty pat on the back at estimates meeting Tuesday.

When estimates for the solicitor's department were approved, Ald. Waldo Skillings said Mr. Patton had done a "super-human" job this past year, carrying on not only routine city business but taking part in the numerous conciliation and arbitrations in which Victoria was concerned.

A MAN WHO putters around a woodworking bench in his basement shouldn't go through a furniture plant. It's too discouraging. In the plant he sees machinery that can whip out in a split second the joints he takes hours to do at home. His plane, his chisels, his rasps and his puny little squares of sandpaper look like fugitives from the archives.

The modern furniture plant is full of biddi-boddiboo—those thingamabobs that do the jobs. One makes dovetail joints, another does mortise-tenon work, a third puts beads on edges. Some drill holes for bolts and countersink the heads at the same time.

IN CASE ANY of you went to manual training with me and learned from W. A. Penderleith how to "plane face edge, test and mark," it might interest you to know that's all done by machines, but the fellow who runs it, probably doesn't know anything about veneering or working the jointing machine. They're specialists — not all-round men like us.

At the Pacific Furniture Manufacturing Co. plant on Viewfield Road, they're doing a smart job of glamorizing alder. Alder always had been good firewood, burns away to a white ash, does not spark and gives out a good heat. When I was a boy, that's about the only thing alder was used for, apart from making chips for barbecues. And when my Uncle Charlie was pre-empting, alder used to make him cuss like Billingsgate. He'd clear a section of land, move on to another the next year and come back to find new alder running all over the place he'd cleared.

BUT ALDER, as Tom Denny explains it, is one of the best woods you can get for the core of veneer. When it's kilned, it doesn't swell and shrink like others. You start to "dry" alder by soaking it with live steam. When the green lumber goes into the kiln, the steam is turned on until the wood is wet all the way through. Then the moisture is reduced and the alder starts to dry from the inside out. Sounds a bit like swallowing a towel, but it isn't. Fans keep air circulating and a valve indicator keeps the drying specialist posted on what's going on in the wood.

This business of moisture content is important in furniture and particularly in veneer. If conditions aren't right when a cabinet, a bed, chiffonier, table, or chair is made, chances are it will twist around like a war-time slab door after it's been used for a while. So out at Pacific, the wood is reduced to a five-per-cent moisture content when the furniture makers start to work on it.

THE ALDER the firm uses comes from Sooke, along with some native maple that's being made into nice tables, chairs and other pieces.

The rough lumber core, that's the alder that runs to about three-quarters of an inch dressed, is cut to size right at the start and makes its way through the different processes that way to avoid waste. It's planed, glued with boiled glue, and laid out for surfaces. Putting on the thin layer of veneer calls for artistry. Sheets have to be matched and grains figured to a nicety. After they've been placed on the cores, the whole shebang is put under heavy presses and the glue seals.

FROM THERE ON, you move into the biddi-boddiboo departments. Special tools cut special shapes, table tops, panels for chests of drawers, furniture legs, parts of chairs, taborettes. Finishing is a nice job with belts of sandpaper that put the satin on the walnut and the lustre on the mahogany. The parts move off to the assembly department and the furniture takes shape.

It still has seven processes of lacquering, filling and polishing before it's ready for the market. The Denny family went into furniture retail in Victoria, have done for years. But they found that they couldn't get exactly what they wanted from the eastern producers. In Ontario, the trend is to heavier, more ornate pieces.

VICTORIANS, with houses that are different, have more windows and are of lighter construction, want furniture to match. We, in this town, are influenced by the coast styles. We're not a big enough centre to make the Ontario people change their designs. So we make our own.

About a third of the local plant's output goes directly into the owner's retail outlet. The rest goes throughout British Columbia and Alberta. Outside sales provide the volume that makes it possible to tool up here. Tooling up is a major expense. The way they work it, the Denny's get what they want for their store, and Victoria gets the benefit of another industry.

At Opening Of 48th B.C. Synod

Chatting in warm sunshine outside Memorial Hall prior to opening of 48th session of Synod of Diocese of British Columbia, left to right, Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunns, St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay; Dean G. R. Calvert, chairman of the synod; Rev. R. M. Boas, Columbia coast mission; R. A. Wootton, synod registrar; G. T. Kinkade, Qualicum Beach; A. D. Crease, Victoria, synod chancellor.

Lack Of Passion For Peace Most Dangerous Element, Synod Told

Lack of any real passion for peace is perhaps the most dangerous element in the world at the present time. Bishop Harold Sexton said in a letter to the 48th Synod of the diocese of British Columbia which opened at the Memorial Hall today.

The bishop's letter substituted for his charge to the Synod, which he was unable to give this year owing to illness.

"It seems the secular resources of our civilization are already exhausted," the message, read by Dean G. R. Calvert, chairman, stated.

On matters of the diocese, the bishop said it was obvious that the quality of the church membership needs to be improved, and suggested as first step towards such improvement a more serious regard for the sacrament of initiation into the church.

"The church is not so much menaced by her many enemies without as by the lack of faithful and devoted membership," he said.

DEARTH OF PASSION

He continued: "There is a great dearth of clergy everywhere. My most pressing problem has been the large Comox district."

Bishop Sexton paid warm tribute to Canon Comley, retired clergyman who has looked after the Comox, Courtenay, Cumberland area the past six months. "He has rendered an outstanding service to the church," the bishop said.

The message suggested the problem of juvenile crime be discussed during the two-day sessions, pointing out that a "grave responsibility rest upon those parents who give no advice to their children as regards moral training."

An outline of general work throughout the diocese, which includes all of Vancouver Island, was given in the letter. Further consideration of the need for increasing the "totally inadequate pensions of the retired clergy," was requested.

Approximately 200 members of the synod, clergy and lay, are meeting at the sessions.

Sales Tax Fine

A fine of $25 and $250 costs was imposed against Paragon Plastic Products Ltd. by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today. James Sutherland, secretary-treasurer of the firm, pleaded guilty to a charge of failing to pay $96.75 in excise tax for March. James J. Proudfoot, acting for the Crown, said the money had now been paid and he asked for the minimum penalty.

Northwest Musicians To Hold Conference Here

Musicians of Local 247, A.F. of M., Victoria, will be hosts to the 13th annual three-day Northwest Conference of Musicians commencing Sunday.

Registration of delegates and guests from Washington, Oregon, Idaho and B.C. will commence at noon Sunday at the Empress Hotel.

At 2:30 in the afternoon, delegates will attend the presentation of Mendelssohn's "Hymn of Praise" at Christ Church Cathedral, and a program of English music in honor of St. George's Day with a 35-piece orchestra from the Victoria Symphony and a chorus of 110 voices under Graham Street.

Following this, an automobile tour of the area will be conducted by local union members.

A buffet supper will be held in the Sprott Shaw Building at 7 Sunday evening.

Registration of late arrivals will be held at 9 Monday morning at the Empress Hotel, and the first business session will commence an hour later. Second business meeting will start at 2. Delegates will attend a banquet at 7 in the evening at the hotel, and a Home Party at the Club Sirocco at 9.

Final business session will be conducted at the hotel at 10 Tuesday morning. The conference will wind up with the seventh annual Parade of Bands at the Crystal Garden between 9 and 1 Tuesday night.

NEW CHURCHES PLANNED HERE BY ANGLICANS

Stone Building For Oak Bay Is Among Projects

Proposal to erect new churches in Oak Bay and at View Royal were among notes on construction work in the diocese of British Columbia presented to the opening session of the 48th Synod at Memorial Hall today.

Bishop Harold Sexton, in a letter to the Synod, pointed out View Royal was a rapidly growing residential area of Greater Victoria.

"It is planned to erect a completely new stone church in due course," the bishop's message, read in his absence due to illness stated in referring to St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay. It told that a new stone church is to be added in the near future as a memorial to the men of the parish who gave their lives in two wars.

Other points on church constructions on the island, included:

PARISH HALL

A modern parish hall is about to be erected at St. John's Church, Victoria, at an approximate cost of $50,000.

A substantial sum has been raised at Port Alberni for erection of a new church and vicarage.

A parish hall is to be erected at St. Stephen's, South Saanich, as a memorial to the late Mrs. E. B. Westinghouse.

Consideration is being given to plans for the further enlargement of St. Luke's Church, Cedar Hill.

A considerable sum of money is in hand for a new church at Cadboro Bay, and it is hoped to commence building shortly.

Secured Jobless Benefits Illegally

A fine of $30 and $250 costs was imposed against Elsie Ingledew, 3131 Fifth Street, today in the city police court when she pleaded guilty to a charge of obtaining unemployment insurance by false statements. Charge involved 18 days and $36.90 in cash, which counsel told the court had been repaid.

Ten-Day Sentence

A 10-day jail sentence was imposed against Thomas O'Malley by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today. This was his penalty for fraudulently obtaining lodgings from the Strathcona Hotel. He pleaded guilty to the charge, the sentence to date from last Monday.

Property Owners Get Small Saving In Reduced Mill Rate

1950 Mill Will Produce $45,700 Compared With $42,821 In 1949

When the smoke of estimates battle cleared away Tuesday Victoria property owners could count on a small dollars and cents saving on their 1950 taxes.

Striking a tax rate of 52 mills on assessed value of land and 65 per cent of improvements, City Council lopped one mill off last year's rate. A mill this year will produce $45,700, compared with $42,821 last year.

Here is a table to show just what the saving will be in various categories:

Type of House	Assessed Value	1949	1950
Small, 5-room older house	$ 400	$ 1,200	$ 62.50
Fairly old, 5-room family dwelling	500	3,000	129.85
New, 5-room average family dwelling	500	4,000	153.70
Large dwelling	500	7,000	267.65
Mansion	1,000	10,000	397.50
Business	$121,720	$91,800	$9,563.27
			$9,432.28

No Bites From Poisonous Spider Found In Woodpile

A spider identified by government biologists as the poisonous black widow was found today by James A. Robinson, 1158 Finlayson Street.

It was in a woodpile at his home.

The black widow was in the news last week when eight-year-old David Hill, 1943 Mayfair Road, was hospitalized after being bit by one.

Jet black in color, the widow is easily identified by its shiny appearance and sometimes a red hour-glass marking on its back.

Arrange Mail For Ontario Sailors

Fleet mail office at Esquimalt announced following departure of the cruiser Ontario for Pearl Harbor Tuesday that first air mail for men abroad the ship will close Friday afternoon at 12:30.

Air mails will be dispatched continuously from that date until May 4.

Two surface mails will reach the Ontario—closing this Friday, and again on April 27.

To ensure delivery, all letters and parcels should reach Victoria Post Office by 8 in the evening on the day preceding closing dates.

AQUARIUM MEETING

The Victoria Aquarium Society will hold a meeting tonight at 717 Courtney Street, at 8.

Thieves Use Car To Raid Langford Welding Shop

B.C. Provincial Police are investigating a series of robberies in the View Royal-Colwood-Langford area during last week-end.

Thieves, who apparently had a truck to take the loot away, broke into the Langford Welding Shop operated by J. Hendley and stole $600 worth of tools and other equipment, police reported. From the new house being constructed by W. J. Flack at 566 Prince Robert Drive at View Royal, robbers took electric fixtures and other household fixtures.

Fred D. Burns, professional at the Colwood Golf Club, told officers his office was broken into on Sunday and 15 dozen golf balls stolen.

Prior to this John Potts, Kelly Road, reported a set of golf clubs stolen from the club. Police believe some of the thefts were done by youths.

No Early Rise In Gas Prices

No immediate increase in gasoline prices is likely in B.C.

Dr. W. A. Carrothers, chairman of the B.C. Coal and Petroleum Control Board, has announced the ledgers of seven major oil companies applying for a price increase have been studied, but the results have been inconclusive in determining whether any increase should be granted.

In view of this, Dr. Carrothers said, there will be no ruling by the board for "a little while" at least.

The Story Of 'A Key, A Key My Kingdom For Any Key!'

By PENNY SAVER

It was such a nice day yesterday, I thought I'd phone Mabel to see what she was doing for excitement. After ringing her number two or three times wondering what she could be talking about all that time, I finally did get her.

"My," says I, "you certainly got your two-bits worth on that call." Says Mabel, "I was just telling Sam if he doesn't get another front door key made, he can jolly well sleep in the doghouse with Fido. I'm just about fit to be tied after last night's episode with the front door."

"Tell all," Mabel, "what happened?" (sneaky way to get into it, wasn't it?)

"Well, dearie, after enjoying an early movie, Sam and I came home with the intentions of catching up on much needed shut-eye. That was fine. We drove home, put the vehicle away, and charged up the front steps and arrived at the front door at the same time. I stepped back to allow Sam to open the door. He, thinking I had the key, also stepped back to allow me full view of the keyhole. Well, the stepping back procedure could have led us back to the bottom step before we knew it, but I stopped before we reached the banisters.

"Aren't you going to open the door?" says I, beginning to have a slight edge in my tone. Sam, bewildered as only men can be, informs me he thought I had the key. The rest of the story I will not reveal. But the miserable thoughts that flashed through my mind as the wind whistled around my feet and Sam smashed his way through the basement door will have me doing penance for the next six months.

"By my sainted aunt, I was going to phone any shop that makes keys, the next morning, or know the reason why. I've just phoned and they tell me I can have my yale key made while I wait, if you please, for only 35 cents. Evidently they make most type of keys, especially locker keys for high school students, or for post office boxes, automobiles, padlocks and house keys, while you wait.

"If you happen to break your key in a wild frenzied moment just bring the parts in and they'll be able to make a new one for you within a day or two, even though it's rather a ticklish job. The charge is small, only 50 cents.

"Did you know, Penny, that should you sell your house and wish to take the lock with you, the yale type... they will change the combination of the cylinder of the lock for about 75 cents? Something else I hadn't a clue about was what they call a keyhole lock. If you are living in a boarding house or somewhere where you like to have double protection on your room lock in an old house, these keyhole locks are just the thing. All you do is put $1.80 on the counter and the clerk will give you a very small mechanism which you insert into your ordinary lock. Once you have inserted it, lock it with the special little key and you won't have to worry about anyone making their way through your rooms. Neat, I'd say."

"If you'll excuse me, Mabel, I'd better get back to the great boiling vat of rhubarb sauce I'm making," sez I. "See you soon? Good! Cheerio."

Bonnet Contest Highlights Tea

An Easter bonnet parade highlighted the social and tea held by Victoria Women's Institute recently.

Participants were allotted 15 minutes to assemble their chapeaux of crepe paper and feathers, and then paraded the results before judges to the tune of the "Easter Parade."

Prizes were awarded to Mesdames J. Curry, G. Bowers, E. M. Thomas and N. Brown. Mrs. W. F. Bridge convened the tea assisted by Mesdames G. Upward, G. Sadler and E. MacDonald.

To start your dinner off with a bang, serve your favorite shrimp cocktail with cubes or balls of avocado added.

Golden Wedding Couple Here Many Years

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. P. Trowsdale welcomed many friends at their Agnes Street home yesterday on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary. A profusion of flowers was received by the couple, with cards, gifts and telegrams. Married in 1900 in Esquimalt by Rev. D. McRae.

The Trowsdales have lived all their married life here. Mr. Trowsdale came to Victoria from Prince Edward Island more than 55 years ago. Mrs. Trowsdale was born on Vancouver Island and has spent all her life here.

SALT SPRING ISLAND NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. C. Hougen entertained friends at a dance party in their Ganges Harbor home recently. Daffodils and greenery decorated rooms, and following dancing a buffet supper was served. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. R. Wakelin, Mr. and Mrs. S. Donkersley, Mr. and Mrs. R. Testar, Mr. and Mrs. H. Day, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bowden, Mr. and Mrs. W. Trelford, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Snow and Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Henn.

An informal party was given by Mr. and Mrs. P. Stevens, Beaver Point, South Salt Spring Island, when guests included Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Lee, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Mollet, Mr. and Mrs. A. Stevens, Mrs. J. Bennett Sr., Mrs. L. Lee and Mrs. J. Chambers. Daffodils decorated the rooms for the occasion and guests enjoyed games.

Miss Lois Twa has returned to Victoria after a fortnight's holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Twa, Isabella Point Road, Salt Spring Island.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Graham are now at their Fulford Harbor home following a week's holiday in Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh MacMillan and their small daughter Heather, have returned to Duncan, after a visit with Mrs. MacMillan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. Lowther at Vesuvius Bay.

Mrs. Gavin H. Mouat and her son, Peter, Surrey Centre, B.C., have returned from a two-week holiday with Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Mouat at Wellbury Bay.

After two weeks holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Y. Stewart, Beaver Point, Miss Ella Stewart has returned to Port Renfrew.

Accompanied by her small son Kent, Mrs. B. T. LaFleur has returned to Ganges, after a few days holiday in Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Carlin and their daughters, Sheila and Diane, have returned to Ganges Harbor. They were in Victoria

Mayor To Speak

Harry G. R. Mews, mayor of St. John's, Newfoundland, will speak to the Women's Canadian Club on Friday at 2.45 in the Empress Hotel ballroom. Mr. Mews has long been active in the public life of the province, as secretary of the Newfoundland Board of Trade, member of the Fisheries Board, and for 15 years on the Municipal Council of St. John's.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRID

When your child seems healthy and well and there is nothing obvious to account for poor sleeping, take a look at the last meal of the day. I read thousands of letters monthly and they contain detailed accounts of a child's meals. Often the diets are excellent, especially when the mother is following the doctor's recommendations of a good diet sheet. But, if she is depending upon her own judgment as to what is a good, night meal, she may come a cropper.

Children may get good and generous breakfasts and lunches but at night they are offered a dish of soup and a dish of fruit sauce and are then expected to stay asleep for 12 hours. They can't do it.

Soup and fruit are both "light" foods, in that they are low in calories. Soup may be little more than water and flavorings, unless it contains extra nourishment in the form of cereal grains and vegetables or is thickened with flour and milk added to it. The child, at night, needs a hearty, filling dish, in addition to the one "light" dish which may well be fruit; and then his full allotment of milk in order that he will have sufficient nourishment to keep him asleep until morning.

Our leaflet No. 27 "Diet from Two to Five Years," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldrid in care of this newspaper.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Strawberry Scone Puff

INGREDIENTS: 2 cups sifted flour; 3 teaspoons baking powder; 1 teaspoon salt; 1 tablespoon sugar; 1/4 cup shortening; 2 eggs, 1/2 to 3/4 cup milk; 2 tablespoons sugar; 1 pint strawberries, sliced and sweetened.

METHOD: Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Cut or rub in shortening. Beat one whole egg and one egg yolk, reserving one white for meringue topping. Add milk to beaten eggs and add to flour mixture. Mix only enough to moisten flour. Spread in greased nine-inch pan. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) about 20 minutes. Remove from pan. Make meringue by beating egg white until stiff, adding two table-spoons of sugar. Spread meringue on edge of scone puff. Brown in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) eight to ten minutes. Fill centre of meringue ring with slices, sweetened strawberries. Serve plain or with cream. The recipe serves six to eight.

Donates $500 For Legion Hall Fund

Mrs. J. B. Acland presided at a meeting of Women's Auxiliary to Canadian Legion, held at Harbor House, Salt Spring Island.

Treasurer reported a balance of $140.91, after a donation of $500 had been made to the Canadian Legion toward the building of a new hall.

Arrangements were made for a flower and candy stall in the basement of Mouat's store, May 13, and Mrs. A. M. Brown was named convener.

Members decided to hold the annual Kermess in August at Salt Spring Island Golf Club.

A report on the blood donor clinic, sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary and convened by Mrs. P. Turner, was given.

Letters were read from the Women's Volunteer Service in England and from veterans in hospital who had received gifts.

for several days and stayed at the Dominion Hotel.

Mr. W. N. McDermott, Ganges Harbor, is traveling to Beeton, Ont., where he will spend the next six months visiting his brother, Mr. A. J. McDermott. Mrs. McDermott accompanied her husband to Vancouver and will remain in the mainland city for a few days.

Liberal Women Arrive For Provincial Meeting

Forty-three delegates, representing many points in British Columbia, arrived in Victoria yesterday afternoon for the annual meeting of British Columbia Women's Liberal Association, which commenced today at Liberal headquarters, Government Street. Mrs. T. C. Smith, president of Victoria Liberal Women's Forum, second from left, officially welcomed provincial officers.

Mrs. G. F. Stuart, left, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Gwen Morris, president; and Mrs. T. P. Grady, recording secretary, right, on their arrival from Vancouver. This morning, registration of delegates began at 9 o'clock. Following election of officers this afternoon, a dinner will be held in Empress Hotel to honor the delegates.

World Needs Much Clearer Thinking, Mrs. Hodges Tells Credit Women

"The world is suffering today from muddled thinking," Mrs. Nancy Hodges, speaker of the provincial Legislature, told a gathering of the Victoria Credit Women's Breakfast Club, this morning in the Strathcona Hotel. Occasion was the second annual bosses' breakfast.

"In this present age," Mrs. Hodges continued, "people refuse to think things through. They listen to speaker after speaker, many with opposing opinions—and they accept these views and opinions without thought."

Mrs. Hodges spoke of the international situation in the world today as an outstanding example of "muddled thinking."

"If we would do more solid thinking," she said, "some of the things happening in the world today would never occur."

The speaker also touched on the modern tendency to get something for nothing.

"Doing a good job for the job's sake has become almost obsolete," she said, "and yet it is still the man or woman who is willing to do a little extra on the job, who gains success."

Mrs. Ethel Wilson introduced "Madam Speaker" and Miss Bess McGillivray expressed thanks of the gathering at conclusion of her address.

Miss Audrey Harness presided at the breakfast meeting at which more than 60 members and their "bosses" were present.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Gladys Hall and Mrs. Margaret Bean, president and vice-president, Pacific Northwest Conference Credit Women's Clubs; Mrs. Mary Osborne, secretary, Seattle Women's Credit Club; and Mrs. Doris Taylor, Vancouver Women's Credit Club.

Miss Florence McDougall gave the toast to the bosses, responded to by Mr. L. Evenden, credit manager, Hudson's Bay Company store. Mrs. Hall gave a brief talk on the Pacific Northwest Credit Conference at Spokane May 13 to 15, and Mrs. Bean on the international conference in Cincinnati in July.

Women In Scattered Areas Plan Combined Bazaar, Tea

It is the time of the year for spring fetes—bazaars and teas—and women in scattered communities along the coast are not going to sit back and miss out on the fun, simply because there is not a large enough population in their area to warrant a spring function.

They can knit and sew as well as women in larger communities and as proof, women at 30 ports visited by the Rendezvous, a Columbia Coast Mission boat, will forward various articles to this city to be sold at a bazaar and silver tea.

The affair will be sponsored by the Columbia Coast Mission Group of St. Mary's Women's Auxiliary and will be held April 29 in St. Mary's Hall, Oak Bay.

Proceeds will be used to support the Rendezvous in its operation.

Rev. R. M. Boas, skipper and padre on the Rendezvous, has reported that the various articles sent in will be arranged on a large table, before a huge map of the 500-mile area covered by the coast mission boat.

Streamers will lead from the various articles on the table to that area on the map from which they have been sent.

An accompanying card will supply details describing the article and stating from whence it came.

In addition there will be a silver tea convened by Mrs. McKechnie, who, with Mrs. A. V. Collison, president, will welcome visitors.

Afternoon tea will be served at small tables arranged in the hall and there will also be a home-cooking stall.

DINNER MEETING

Toastmistresses Choose Controversial Subjects

Pros and cons of topics of current interest were discussed in the form of debate at the novel table topic lead by Miss Gloria John at the Toastmistress meeting held in Cairo Coffee Shop, Monday evening.

Subjects included legalizing of hospital sweepstakes, earlier old-age pensions, jail terms for drunken-drivers and the sale of liquor by the glass in restaurants, and offered wide scope for members, setting the pace for the brisk and stimulating program which followed.

Toastmistress for the evening, Mrs. Audrey Thompson called upon Mrs. Mary Broadley, Mrs. Dorothy Davidson, Mrs. Jean Downey and Miss Helen Greaves to give two-minute impromptu talks. In another talk of impromptu nature, of five-minute duration, Mrs. Marjorie Noy-Smith spoke on value of voice gesture.

Miss Maude Lockhead, chief speaker for the evening, chose as her subject, "As a Man Thinketh, So Is He." Miss Constance Chrow gave the vote of thanks.

General critic was Mrs. Helen Simpson who awarded the spur to Mrs. Broadley for the improvement and the oscar to Miss Lockhead for the best talk of the evening.

Rebekah Lodge Reports Tea, Sale

Reports were made on a tea and home cooking sale convened by Sisters Nellie Howse, P.N.G., and Frances Porter, P.N.G., held by Carne Rebekah Lodge No. 45, recently. Sister Elsie Taylor, P.N.G., district deputy president, opened the affair.

It was noted that a meeting would be held Thursday at 7.30 in Odd Fellows Hall when the Rebekah Degree will be conferred.

Members of Carne Rebekah Lodge will also attend evening worship in St. Saviour's Church on Sunday at 7.30.

It was announced that a sewing meeting would be held in the home of Mrs. E. McCabe, 1827 Lullie Street, April 26 at 7.30.

PROMINENT SPEAKERS AT V.O.N. MEETING

OTTAWA (CP)—Three outstanding figures in the Canadian health field will be among the speakers at the 52nd annual meeting of the Victorian Order of Nurses in Winnipeg May 12.

V.O.N. headquarters announced today that Dr. A. T. Mathers, professor of psychiatry at the University of Manitoba, will address the opening day luncheon on "Psychiatric Problems That May Confront The Community Nurse."

Speaker at the afternoon session May 1 will be Dr. L. G. Bell, dean of medicine at the university, who will speak on "The Treatment of Arthritis."

Dr. F. D. Mott, Saskatchewan's acting deputy minister of health, will speak at a luncheon May 2 on "Priority in Health Planning."

Louise MacBride Married Quietly This Afternoon

Quietly, this afternoon at 2, marriage vows were exchanged by Miss Louise Rigg MacBride and Mackay Brock, midst a setting of spring flowers, in the lounge of Oak Bay Beach Hotel.

The bride is the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan MacBride, 59 Cook Street, and the groom the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Brock, who came from Vancouver for the rites.

Rev. W. G. Wilson officiated and, in attendance, were the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Miller.

At a reception following, Mrs. MacBride and Mrs. Brock assisted in receiving guests. Victor Clarke proposed the wedding toast.

Mr. and Mrs. Brock will motor to Los Angeles on honeymoon, returning to Vancouver to make their home.

Discusses Nationalism In Canada

Members of the University Women's Club heard Willard Ireland, provincial archivist, speak on "Canada's Growing Nationalism," at their meeting last evening in the Art Centre.

Pointing out that two wars in the past 30 years had played a great part in creating a national sentiment, the speaker indicated that "our right to sign a peace treaty, our right to establish our own embassies abroad and our right to have our own courts and the final court of appeal are signs of our maturity as a nation."

Rampant nationalism or uncontrolled pride can breed prejudice, he stated.

"What we need is a unified feeling of a common purpose and a real appreciation of our Canadian heritage," Mr. Ireland told members and added that "we must strengthen the non-nationalistic side of our people by building on the moral and spiritual qualities of the individual."

"We have a great physical bulk as a country, but we must see that it is peopled by mature citizens," he concluded.

Mrs. K. O. Wright, president, thanked the speaker.

Lieutenant-Governor's Wife To Open Wonderland Fair

Mrs. Charles A. Banks, wife of the Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, will officiate at opening ceremonies of the Alice in Wonderland Fair, sponsored by 17 chapters of the I.O.D.E. in Victoria, next Saturday afternoon and evening in the Bay-Street Armory.

Judges for the children's fancy dress parade will be Mrs. William T. Straith, Mrs. Harold L. Campbell and Mr. H. S. Hurn.

Mrs. Droob Honored At Tea-Hour Reception

Celebrating her 88th birthday today, Mrs. Josephine Droob was the honor guest at a tea-hour party given by Mrs. A. H. Cox, 9.50 Joan Crescent.

The tea table was attractively appointed with violets and mauve primroses flanked by mauve candles, centred on the Point de Venice cloth.

Mrs. Fred Dillabough and Mrs. H. Miller presided at the urns, and Miss Muriel Burns and Mrs. J. F. O'Neill assisted as servers.

Guests included women members of Lutheran Church and friends of long-standing.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Brock are here from Vancouver to attend the marriage today of their son, Mr. Mackay Brock to Miss Louise Rigg MacBride.

Mrs. J. Furiak arrived from Kamloops yesterday to spend a week visiting her sisters, Mrs. F. Wille, Quadra Street, and Mrs. C. L. Bishop, Wilkinson Road.

Of interest to friends in Victoria was the christening in Vancouver on Sunday of the three-month-old twin son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Whiteley in St. Augustine's Anglican Church, Marpole. Rev. William Garbutt officiated. The babies received the names Michael Arthur and Barbara May, and were bestowed gowns. They are grandchildren of Mrs. E. M. Hewitson, formerly of Victoria. Godmothers are Mrs. Doris Hill, Vancouver, and Mrs. Ida Smith, Edmonton. Among guests was Mrs. Frank Michelin of Victoria.

Honoring Miss Betty Russell, a May bride-elect, Mrs. Grace Kerkham, president, City Council, Beta Sigma Phi, entertained at her home on Hall Road, Sunday afternoon at the tea hour. A corsage bouquet of pink roses and violets was presented to the guest of honor and also a gift expressing the good wishes from the members of City Council of which Betty is corresponding secretary. Mrs. Thelma Johns, the sorority's social sponsor, presided at the tea table which was attractively decorated with spring flowers. Guests were Mesdames Joyce Nicolls, Isabella Helander, Peggy Joyce, Grace Waters, Winnie Wardman and Misses Irene Scott, Mildred Hick, Darlene Woodburn, Betty Prangnell, Margaret Walker, Frances West, Louise Michaux and Joyce Richardson.

Smith, Turner, R. W. Watson, H. L. Woolson, W. L. Williams, C. J. Walters, G. Leeming and Misses J. E. French, B. Littlehales and Christine MacNab.

Arrangements for local members attending were made at a meeting of Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E.

It was reported that a golden jubilee pageant of progress marking the 50th anniversary of the I.O.D.E. will be a feature of the annual meeting and will be given Tuesday at a dinner meeting.

Announcement of election of councillors will be made at this session and later councillors and municipal regents will retire to elect officers of Provincial Chapter.

Address of the president, Mrs. W. N. Martin will be given at the formal opening Monday evening, when report of the secretary, Mrs. Denny Godfrey, will be heard.

Convenor of Child and Family Welfare, Mrs. C. F. Green, reported that six families, one including eight children, have been supplied with milk during the month. She said that $33.96 had been spent for milk and that donation of clothing valued at $188.83 was also given to needy families.

Mrs. J. C. F. Blowey, post war service convenor, reported that new clothing and quilts valued at $93.50 had been sent overseas.

Mrs. J. T. A. Fox was elected ex-service personnel convenor; Mrs. A. Mainprize, Canadianization and immigration convenor, and Mrs. T. A. Clarke, transportation.

Fancy Dress Parade At Wonderland Fair

In connection with the Alice in Wonderland Fair next Saturday at Bay Street Armory, a children's fancy dress parade will be held. The affair is open to all children up to and including 12 years of age. There will be a small entry fee and prizes will be awarded to best dressed, best original, best comic and best character out of Alice in Wonderland. The parade starts at 2.45 p.m. Tickets may be obtained at Rosamond's Dress Shop, 637 Fort Street.

Daffodil Tea—A sum of $22.50 was realized for funds of St. George's Church Altar Guild, at a daffodil tea held in the Vicarage, Ganges, Salt Spring Island. Mrs. A. R. Moore was tea convenor and presiding at the urns were Mesdames S. P. Beech, G. Lowe and A. Dodson.

Anglican Diocesan Woman's Auxiliary, St. Mary's Parish Hall, Oak Bay, Friday, at 10.30 a.m.

Trans-Canada Highway Parley Set For April 24

As Yet Not All Provinces' Spokesmen Have Notified Ottawa They Are Going

By GORDON E. LEIGHTON
Times Ottawa Representative

OTTAWA—To be or not to be! That is the question of the Trans-Canada Highway to be decided by the provinces within a few days.

Provided that is—and this is still a matter of doubt—all the provinces and their representatives come to a meeting in Ottawa starting April 24.

Preparations are going ahead on the assumption of a full attendance, but certain wariness of commitments is evident amongst the officials concerned. Some provincial representatives are here already, girding for the conference; but from others there is yet no official communication.

Under the guidance of Resources Minister Winters delegates, it is hoped, will end the 20-year delay in completing arrangements. Spasmodic attempts from time to time to build bits of the road as unemployment remedies have left their monuments of frustration on plain and prairie, at no inconsiderable cost. These may be forgotten if the delegates get down to agreement on routes, standards of construction and division of costs as is expected.

Less than a full-blown plan covering all essentials is not anticipated. Disagreement on fundamentals could again postpone construction, but the preliminaries have been under discussion for so long now that it is presumed the provinces are ready to subscribe and co-operate in a final effort to span the Dominion with a first-class road.

FACE-LIFTING AT HALIFAX

HALIFAX (CP)—This 200-year-old city is undergoing a face-lifting in the form of a $20,000,000 building boom that will probably take more than two years to complete. It will include many phases of construction, from schools and nurses' residences to a new federal building and a $350,000 addition to the fisheries experimental station.

Planes Using Skis In North Manitoba

FLIN FLON, Man. (CP)—The long, cold winter has delayed the spring break-up here for at least two weeks, but has improved ice conditions in northern Manitoba.

Bush flying in the north is expected to continue for another two or three weeks with the ice good for landings. Last spring plane service was canceled April 9 until the thawing ground was firm enough for conversion to wheels.

Subjects' Loyalty Cause Of Reprimand

SEROWE, Bechuanaland (Reuter)—Seretse Khama, banished 29-year-old chief-designate of the Bamangwato tribe, said Tuesday he was "severely reprimanded" by administration officials for a demonstration of loyalty by his people Monday. He was threatened with cancellation of the permission granted for his five-day visit to see his London-born wife, Ruth, who is expecting a baby, he added.

Coffee To Go Up

LONDON (Reuter)—Britons will pay an average of sixpence (about eight cents) a pound more for coffee after May 7, the Ministry of Food announced Tuesday. Average price of coffee in Britain at present is 2s 10d a pound.

TO JOIN KINGDOM

LONDON (Reuter)—King Abdullah of Jordan will announce the formal incorporation of Arab Palestine into the kingdom of Jordan next Monday at the opening session of the newly-elected Jordan Parliament in Amman, it was learned Tuesday from a reliable source.

100 Divorce Bills

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons Tuesday gave second reading to 100 divorce bills. P. E. Cagnon (Ind.-Chicoutimi) spoke briefly against the measures, most of which come from Quebec province, before they were approved.
